Twist to peeing incident, accused says he didn't urinate on woman

NEW DELHI: In a surprise U-turn, Shankar Mishra, the man accused of urinating on an elderly woman co-passenger on an Air India flight, told a Delhi court on Friday he did not commit the offensive act and that the alleged victim seems to have urinated in her seat. Senior advocate Ramesh Gupta, appearing for Mishra, accused police and the press of turning the case into a joke.

INDIA-CHINA TRADE SIZZLES DESPITE BORDER TENSIONS

Bilateral trade grew 8.4% in 2022 to an all-time high of $135.98 billion, while the trade deficit crossed $100 bn for the first time

IMPORTS FROM CHINA SOAR 22% TO $118.5 BN

The trade deficit for India stood at $101.02 bn, crossing the 2021 figure of $69.38 bn, Chinese Customs data showed. This record surge was driven by India's robust imports of Chinese goods, which grew 21.7% annually to $118.5 bn, while exports shrank 37.9% to $17.48 bn. The trade deficit in 2021 was $69.56 bn as imports from China swelled 46.14% to $97.59 bn

CHEAP CHINESE GOODS DRIVE TRADE

- In 2021, India's overall trade with China had totalled $125.62 bn, a rise of 43.32% year-on-year, crossing $100 bn for the first time
- Trade deficit refers to a situation where a country imports more than it exports. According to officials, China's exports to India are driven by cheap Chinese goods, which spiral the trade deficit

Take offending anchors off air: SC on hate speech

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

TWO different benches of the Supreme Court made strong oral observations against hate speech on Friday, with one of them suggesting offending TV anchors be taken off air. While one bench was led by Justice K M Joseph and the other was by Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud.

Criticising the News Broadcasting Standards Authority (NBSA) for its failure to act against TV channels indulging in hate speech, the bench led by Justice Joseph said channels are being driven by TRPs (television rating points) wherein they sensationalise everything to serve an agenda.

TV, he said, is a very powerful medium with youngsters getting glued to it. "How many times have you taken off anchors? Have you dealt with anchors in a way that sends them the message? If the anchor is himself or herself part of the problem then what can be done," Justice Joseph asked the NBSA counsel.

"We want free speech, but at what cost... Hate speech has become a complete menace. It has to stop," he added.

Expressing concern over media trial, the bench cited the instance of a flier who allegedly peed on a fellow passenger onboard an Air India flight, saying, "He was called names. Media people should understand he is still under trial and he should not be denigrated. Everyone has dignity."

Additional Solicitor General K M Nataraj, appearing for the Centre, said the government intends to make comprehensive changes in the criminal laws of the country to deal with hate speech as well.

In the other bench, CJI Chandrachud hauled up the Delhi Police for the inordinate delay in even filing first information reports over incidents of hate speech at a Hindu Yuva Vahini event in Delhi in December 2021.

"Why do you require five months to register FIR? What steps have you taken after May 4? What steps have you made? Who's the investigation officer? What progress has been made in eight months? If you register FIR five months later and there is no substantial progress eight months later, how can you comply?" he asked.

The bench was hearing a plea filed by social activist and Mahatma Gandhi's great grandson Tushar Gandhi.

Anchor holds key to fairness, says bench

"In a live programme, the key to fairness of the programme is held by the anchor. If the anchor is not fair, he would not allow the counter view to come... This is an insignia of bias," the bench said

Biden key in denying India cryogenic tech in '90s, Kerala HC told

P RAMDAS @Kochi

THE 1994 espionage case was fabricated and the arrest of Nambi Narayanan was illegal, the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) told the Kerala High Court on Friday. The investigating agency added that the case is a serious matter involving national security and foreign powers were involved in the conspiracy to fabricate the case against eminent scientists of the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO).

In the 1990s, the current US President Joe Biden, who was then a senator, played a crucial role in denying India the cryogenic engine technology that powers the GSLV series of heavy-lift rockets. Biden believed India should not be given the cryogenic engine, because it will be used in missiles. The cryogenic engine can be used in missile technology and the ban was on that grounds, Additional Solicitor General (ASG) S V Raju submitted.

"Foreign powers did not want India to develop the cryogenic engine, hence the conspiracy was hatched to derail the project." Raju made the submission while opposing the anticipatory bail plea of first accused S Vijayan, second accused Thampi S Durgadutt, Siby Mathew (fourth accused), R B Sreekumar (seventh accused), P S Jayaprakash (11th accused) and V K Maini (17th accused). P12

'Santro' Ravi finally in police net in Gujarat

KARTHIK K K @Mysuru

FUGITIVE KS Manjunath alias 'Santro' Ravi, wanted in rape, dowry and atrocity cases and absconding since 11 days was finally arrested in Ahmedabad in Gujarat on Friday.

Confirming the development, ADGP (law and order) Alok Kumar told mediapersons that Ravi (51) was arrested on Friday afternoon in Ahmedabad and will be brought to Mysuru once a transit warrant is obtained.

The accused made headlines after photos of him hobnobbing with top political leaders, especially BJP ministers, MLAs and bureaucrats went viral on social media. Audio clips of his alleged involvement in a police transfer racket were also doing the rounds.

The video and audio clips gave ammo to the opposition parties, Congress and JDS, to attack the BJP government, accusing it of trying to exploit his connections in the run up to the state Assembly elections.

Seven separate teams were constituted by Mysuru city police commissioner Ramesh B, which included SPs of three districts and DCPs of Mysuru.

"He had served 11 months in jail and was booked under Goonda Act in 2005. He was a white caller criminal and used to change his SIM cards, mobile phones and vehicles very often," said Alok Kumar, who congratulated the officers and announced a special reward to the police teams.

According to a source in the special team, Ravi first took shelter in a farmhouse in Mandya.

Kashmiris: We feel more at home outside Valley

MALLIKARJUN HIREMATH @Dharwad

"WE feel more at liberty in places other than our home state (UT)," said a Kashmiri youth at the ongoing National Youth Festival (NYF) in Dharwad on Friday. He said there is a wrong notion that majority of people in the country think that people in Kashmir are struggling for liberty.

Such misconceptions are being spread by a few political leaders belonging to different political parties. The real struggle back home is to get basic facilities and development work.

Another youth from the Valley said things have changed in the last decade and people from other parts of India are accepting people of all religions from Kashmir.

They are showing affection and ample support which was not the case in the past. Some anti-social elements are creating discord between different communities.

"Earlier people used to look at us differently when we claimed that we are from Pulwama in Kashmir. They treated us as substandard. But platforms like National Youth Festival (NYF) have helped in clearing misunderstandings about us. We, the people in Kashmir, are also looking forward to see our UT like any other UT/state in the nation", he added. P7

KILLER PILLAR: HC TAKES SUO MOTU ACTION AGAINST GOVT, CIVIC BODIES

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Friday initiated suo motu proceedings against the state government, BMRCL, BBMP, the contractor and other authorities in connection with the under-construction Metro pillar crushing a woman and her toddler-son to death in HBR Layout on January 10.

The court took cognizance of media reports, and particularly referred to The New Indian Express story titled "From Above & Under: After Pillar Crash, Now Sinkhole At Vellara Jn" published in TNIE on Friday, reporting a new sinkhole at Vellara Junction in front of Brigade Towers in Shantala Nagar, injuring a biker, which was allegedly caused due to BMRCL tunnelling work in the area.

A division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Ashok S Kinagi expressed concern over the safety of public while initiating suo motu proceedings.

Citing media reports dated January 11, 2023 on the death of the mother and son, the court observed that the reports prompted them to initiate the proceedings.

The court also directed the Registrar General of HC to refer to issues of serious consideration: whether safety measures are a part of the tender documents or contract agreement, and if not, whether attempts have been made to prescribe safety measures through government order or notification; if safety measures are prescribed, then what is the mechanism for periodical supervision and check-ups in ongoing construction activities; and if any accountability is fixed in case of failure to ensure safety.

Underground infrastructure is neglected. There is absolutely no coordination between civic agencies to ensure better road infrastructure. Roads are not laid with proper foundation and underground layers are washed away

Experts: Loopholes in coordination reason for sinkhole, not tunnelling

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

EXPERTS blamed lack of coordination among agencies that led to a sinkhole in front of Brigade Towers at Vellara Junction on Thursday.

The sinkhole was not caused by the Tunnel Boring Machine (TBM), experts said, but instead because of roads not being fixed by various civic agencies like BWSSB, BBMP and Bescom after they were done with their work.

The TBM tunnelling, however, has only exposed the problem that already exists.

"Underground infrastructure is neglected. There is absolutely no coordination between civic agencies to ensure better road infrastructure. Roads are not laid with proper foundations and as a result, underground layers are getting washed away due to the leakage of pipes. Even without tunnel work, sinkholes have appeared at other places earlier," said Ashwin Mahesh, urban expert.

Based on the correlation between weak health and Covid-19, urban expert V Ravichander said, "Metro tunnel work has only exposed the underlying vulnerability. I cannot conclusively say that the sinkhole is only due to BMRCL. This incident may have happened due to water leakage and was exposed after the vibrations."

He warned that the incident is a cautioned for the future. "If the authorities take any shortcuts for road construction, it will come back to haunt them later in the form of a sinkhole," stressed Ravichander.

Rainwater expert and civil engineer, S Vishwanath, explained that the city is, by and large, a hard rock terrain, and even if a sinkhole is found, the depth will be shallow. He was also of the opinion that the sinkhole could be due to water pipe leakage. "The water dissolves minerals and soil, and if sinkholes develop at such places, they are around 8 to 10 feet deep."

BBMP awaits report over rapid road cracks

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath on Friday said that they are waiting for a third party investigation report from IISc before taking a decision on the execution of rapid road project.

He said that contractor, Ultratech, which was the technology partner, has also undertaken an independent study of the area where cracks have appeared. This announcement comes after reports that the same technology has also been used at Manyata Tech Park for road works. Girinath told TNIE that with questions raised about the rapid road projects, a decision can only be taken only after IISc's civil engineering department evaluation report comes.

Echoing the same, BBMP's Engineer-In-Chief BS Prahalad said the engineering section has also sought details from engineers concerned who worked on Manyata Tech Park's rapid road project.

Sources said that after improving the technology, the project might get the approval for a few more rapid roads in the city.

"There are a few issues, but we are learning from these incidents. The pilot project has shown some problems which will be fixed. We are also considering using the same technology on a few more road as it is suited for the city where traffic density is always high," Prahalad said.

The project came under flak on social media as cracks appeared even before the pilot project on a 500m stretch between Old Madras Road's Binnamangala Junction to Petrol Bunk Circle near Adarsha Theatre could be completed.

'Sankey Rd widening tender hastily floated'

BBMP, which has reportedly floated a tender to widen Sankey Road from Bashyam Circle to Malleswaram 18th Cross and construct a flyover along Sankey Road in Malleswaram Assembly constituency, has faced objections from Bengaluru NavaNirmana Party members. They said the civic body has neither consulted the public while preparing the detail project report nor they have justified the project's merits. "Floating a tender in a hurry for a road widening project ahead of the Assembly elections shows that BBMP is being run arbitrarily," said a member from BNP. ENS

HC: Status quo order won't stop Isha Centre's event

ENS @Bengaluru

AFTER Isha Yoga Centre gave an undertaking that they would not take any alleged deforestation or construction except what is necessary for the scheduled event on January 15, 2023, in Chikkaballapura district, the Karnataka High Court clarified that its interim order of status quo passed in a PIL would not come in the way of the event.

A division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Ashok S Kinagi passed the order on Friday after hearing senior advocate Uday Holla, representing Isha Yoga Centre.

While extending the interim order of status quo till the next date of hearing on February 2, 2023, the court said, "Considering these facts, we clarify the order on January 11, 2023, would not come in the way of a scheduled event, subject to the undertaking given that Isha Yoga Centre would not take any activity of alleged deforestation and alleged construction."

Holla filed a statement of objections against the PIL, including grounds like suppression of material facts and credentials of petitioners. The petitioners S Kyathappa and three others, who are local agriculturists, challenged the land granted to Isha Yoga Centre, which allegedly violated laws.

Senior counsel Prashanth Bhushan, representing the petitioner, submitted that they have built a road through the forest areas with political backing which would not be allowed in a thick forest.

Tests done, Brigade Road opens after 20 hours

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TRAFFIC on Brigade Road, which was closed after a sinkhole developed on Thursday near Vellara Junction, injuring a biker, the Ashok Nagar Traffic Police opened the road for vehicular movement after 20 hours of the incident.

On Friday morning, Kala Krishnaswamy, DCP, Traffic East, visited the spot. Namma Metro engineers assured that adequate safety measures have been put in place after the night long soil test, and after that, vehicular traffic from Dairy Circle was allowed on this stretch at 10.15 am.

A Metro engineer at the spot said that M20 concrete material was used to fill the sinkhole opposite Brigade Towers near Vellara Junction on Thursday, and the material took 10 hours to settle in.

"At midnight, equipment and machinery were used to mark seven places around the sinkhole and a drill test was conducted to check the condition of soil. There was no loose soil and the decision was taken that the patch work was safe. In the morning the traffic police department was asked to allow vehicles," said the BMRCL site engineer.

Confirming the same, BMRCL MD Anjum Parwez said that holes of around 2m radius were made near the sinkhole. "It's all done and now we are focusing on the TBM to reach its destination opposite Johnson Market in 10 to 15 days," he said.

The patch work area was barricaded and the traffic police was asked to close the stretch for vehicular movement for 20 hours which might have resulted in the material coming off.

At present, the engineer said that the Tunnel Boring Machine 'Lavi', which has tunnelled from MG Road side cut the rock opposite the Brigade Towers, was drilling 30m below the All Saints Bakery.

Security runs on before T2 launch

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

MASSIVE security checks were undertaken by security agencies to ensure a smooth maiden flight from Terminal 2 on Sunday at 8.40 am by Star Air. Airport operator BIAL plans to scale up operations at T2 for a smooth take off while the largest airline operating from Bengaluru, IndiGo, plans to stay put at Terminal 1 only for now, said sources.

Star Air will fully shift its operations to the new terminal. It operates the Embraer 145 aircraft which has a maximum seating capacity of 50 plus two cabin crew. VIPs including a few MPs and MLAs will be on the debut flight but their identities are under wraps.

"Our first flight (S5-117) from KIA to Kalaburagi has been fully booked. We want our passengers to experience the spectacular Terminal 2. So we have decided to shift all our operations here," said CA Boppanna, Head of Airport Services at Star Air. An airline spokesperson claimed its second departing flight from the terminal had received good bookings. S5-101 to Hubballi will depart at 11.55 am and reach its destination at 12.55 pm. "We are taking all precautions to ensure no untoward incident takes place. We have been carrying out multiple checks during the last fortnight," said a top CISF official. City Police Commissioner CH Pratap Reddy visited the new terminal.

No aerobridge

The shuttle bus will take passengers directly from the terminal to the aircraft. "This, being a small aircraft, there will be no need of an aerobridge," an airport source said. BIAL has deliberately chosen to start off in a small manner, another source said. "They are wary of technical glitches new airports face. The recent problems faced by the second airport at Goa too has made them play safe," he added.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

14TH January: The theme for the day – and the coming year – is balance. Family aspirations, financial fortunes and professional hopes all need to work in harmony with each other. The planets play their part, but ultimately it's up to you to manage affairs for the bast – as only you can.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
It is very pleasant indeed to report that the stars are making life a great deal simpler. Don't take everything at face value though, or other people may find it easier to pull the wool over your eyes. It's fine to be naive, but not if you allow yourself to be exploited.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
The most simple reading of your chart indicates nothing more than pleasant shopping trips. I have a feeling that superficial pursuits suit you best at the moment, partly because relationships have been so intense that you could do with a break.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Partnership and matrimonial questions should be given a priority today. There are few indications of stress, which is precisely why it is useful to make certain positive moves to heal old problems. You'd be so happy if people put you under less pressure!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Before very much longer you will have to deal with someone who seems to be in a perpetual state of emotional tension. This is doing nobody any good, but it may be up to you, as a compassionate Cancer, to step in and help to heal personal hurts and upsets.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Decisive action is called for, but may not be possible. Actually, this looks like one of those days when you may duck out of all your commitments and dedicate your life to self-indulgence. Perhaps partners will agree that it's all for the best!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The general state of the stars is deeply intense, and somewhat crisis-prone. I would not be surprised to see a number of Virgos walking around with feet firmly placed in their mouths, saying the wrong thing without meaning to! Helpful talks with relatives should straighten you out.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
A set of serious financial influences has been sending cash matters into a spin. Try to stop caring so much about money, and you might find that some difficulties are exacerbated by your own failure to get personal and professional priorities in order.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It's well-known that spending money cheers people up! This is just what I'd prescribe for you right now! Don't take risks, though, because an air of complacency suggests that you'll overlook certain essential details. You don't want to throw good money after bad, now, do you?

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Within twenty-four hours you will experience a planetary combination that conclusively ties professional and public prestige to financial prosperity. This is part of a five-year cycle dealing with deep, but positive, undercurrents, so don't expect instant results.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
If you're not sure what's going on, it's because you're looking in the wrong place. This is a day to welcome mystery and intrigue. In the final analysis your day-dreams may mean more to you than so-called 'real-life'. They might even reveal the answers to tired old problems.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Professional demands are still so intense that many of you may be unable to relax sufficiently to enjoy the Moon's sociable functions. Even leisure pursuits will need to be competitive and ambitious. Whatever you do, whoever you do it with, you'll want to come top.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Venus is one of those fortunate planets that guarantees financial success - well, almost! First, you will have to grapple with a legal question or moral issue that seems to be troubling your conscience. As you know, some values are much more important than whether you make a profit or not.

The body of an unidentified man was found in a drain on Magadi Road in Sunkadakatte on Friday. The identity of the deceased, aged around 45, is yet to be established. Police said passersby noticed the body rolled in a mattress dumped under a footpath drain. "It is suspected that the assailants have strangled him to death, before dumping the body late on Thursday night. We are trying to establish the identity of the deceased and trace the accused," the police said

Police seize 23kg of pangolin scales

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

BENGALURU City Police arrested one person and recovered 23kg of pangolin scales. According to conservationists, experts, police and forest department officials, this is the biggest haul ever in the city.

They said this has raised a lot of questions pertaining to the procurement, poaching, hunting and export of scales. According to the Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change, and the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, poaching is the second biggest crime after drugs.

On Wednesday night, Hanumanthanagar police had arrested Kiran Ramanayak, 25, a resident of Siddapura in Uttara Kananda district, with 23kg of pangolin scales. "This is the biggest haul of scales in Bengaluru so far. There were four men, and while three escaped, we caught Ramanayak. One of the absconders is said to be a habitual offender, and was involved in exporting scales to other states and countries," said an investigating officer.

Conservationists involved in the case said that for such a quantity be collected, 30-35 pangolins would have been killed and skinned. The scales appear to have been collected over a period of three to four years, and could be just the tip of the iceberg, they added. The maximum seizure was 9kg in Annapoorneshwari Nagar, while 3kg had earlier been seized in Chitradurga. "The people involved in the case are hunters. We are probing all angles to find out where the pangolins could have been procured from, the channels of sale, network, places where there is demand, and the reasons. It is known that pangolin scales are used for medicinal purposes and accessories, but there is needs for a bigger probe," said the investigating officer.

Ramanayak was arrested near BWSSB Park in Banashankari first stage, and booked under the Wildlife Protection Act, 1972.

Shopkeepers, kid beaten up for seeking dues

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A request to three customers to settle dues of Rs 950, proved costly for a shopkeeper couple and their five-year-old son, when they were beaten up by the trio. The incident occurred in Kengeri police limits, and in a swift operation, police managed to arrest one of the accused.

The couple, G V Shiva Kumar (35) and his wife Divyashree (26), run a condiments shop in Kengeri Upanagara. The three habitual offenders would regularly come to the shop to have tea and cigarettes, and leave without paying. They would ask the couple to jot it down in their account book, and said they would pay later. When the balance kept mounting, the couple refused to give them anything.

The family resides on 6th Main, near Kalikamba Temple in Kengeri Upanagara, and owns Chowdeshwari Condiments on the same lane.

One of the accused, identified as Salman Tippu, was a regular customer. Around 2pm Tuesday, he is said to have come to the shop for tea and cigarettes. Kumar, who was in the shop, demanded that he settle the balance, failing which he refuse to give him anything. Frustrated, Salman allegedly started abusing Kumar for asking for money, and left, warning Kumar he would teach him a lesson.

"Around 5.50pm, Tippu is alleged to have returned with his associates, and ransacked the shop and broke some items. Kumar started screaming for help after the accused began beating him. Hearing the screams, Divyashree came to help her husband, and was attacked and slapped. The accused did not spare even the couple's son, and attacked him with a stone," said an officer who is part of investigations.

When neighbours and passersby came to their rescue, they fled in their car. Kumar filed a police complaint on Wednesday night. Police arrested Tippu on Thursday, and are on the lookout for the other accused. Kengeri police registered a case.

FIRST RESPONDERS

Wait gets longer for better ambulances, no bidders for tenders

NAMRATA SINDWANI
@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA's steps to replace the current service providers handling 108 ambulances, have not seen much progress as no bidders have made any offers in the tenders floated so far, health department officials said.

GVK-EMRI is the company handling ambulance services for 14 years in Karnataka. The ambulance services have received several complaints in terms of quality, late response time of ambulances and even technical glitches in the server, causing abrupt withdrawal of services. The Comptroller and Auditor General's (CAG) 2022 report also highlighted the failure of services, with late response time and ambulances not being well-equipped.

Dr R Narayana, deputy director (EMRI-108), said, "We have not seen bidders making any offers so far, and floated a new tender on January 9. Certain requirements have been changed in the new tender and we are hoping to find an interested bidder very soon."

He said the government is planning to enforce stricter penalties and guidelines for the new service providers to ensure that enhanced quality of services are provided to the people. Several times, there has been a lack of accountability due to strict rules being laid down, and not much was done in case of poor quality of ambulances or late response time shown by service providers, Narayana said.

Hanumanth RG CEO, GVK-EMRI, told TNIE that the technical glitches seen in September 2022 were a one-off issue and were resolved in a day's time. Being replaced after 14 years, he said that beyond the technical glitch, they have provided services on time. He accepted that the quality of certain old ambulances was not up to the mark, and could be changed with the new service providers.

Filmmaker held in cheque bounce case

BENGALURU: Kannada filmmaker and actor Guruprasad was arrested by the Girinagar police in connection with a cheque bounce case, but was later released by the court on bail, on Friday. Police said that Srinivas, a fan of the director of 'Mata' fame, had come in contact with Guruprasad in 2015 and the latter had taken a loan of Rs 30 lakh in 2016 through Srinivas. However, he had not returned the money, but issued a cheque which bounced due to insufficient funds. "Srinivas had approached the court in August last year, and the court had recently issued a non-bailable warrant against Guruprasad. Hence, he was arrested on Friday and was produced before the 21st ACMM court, which released him on bail," the police added.

House owner spots burglars on CCTV, dials cops from room

ENS @Bengaluru

AN alert house owner thwarted a burglary bid by calling emergency number 112, which led police to arrest seven armed burglars in Thalaghattapura.

The incident took place in the house of Rahul Balagopal, a resident of Narayana Nagar, off Kanakapura Road, early Wednesday. Balagopal, who runs a factory and lives with his father and brother, woke up at 5.20 am and went to the kitchen to prepare coffee. He found the refrigerator open and ransacked. Growing suspicious, he went to his father's room and checked CCTV footage on his mobile phone to find five armed men hiding behind furniture in the living room. Wasting no time, he dialled 112 and alerted the police control room about the burglars in the house.

"Within 10 minutes, a Hoysala patrol vehicle rushed to his residence. Hearing the sound of the police vehicle, the armed burglars entered the guest room and locked themselves in. However, police forcibly opened the door and nabbed five of them, and seized a sword, two iron rods, two iron pipes, three packets of chilli powder and a rope. Based on their information, two of their associates were arrested near Anekal bus stand the same day," police added.

The accused are aged 21-27 years, and six of them hail from Bihar, UP and Rajasthan, while one is a resident of Electronics City. "They had conducted a recce on isolated houses on the city outskirts, and zeroed in on the Balagopal residence. They used the window grills to climb up to the terrace. While five of them entered the house by breaking the door on the terrace, two stayed there to watch the movements outside," police said.

'SANTRO' RAVI WILL FACE ACTION AS PER LAW, SAYS JNANENDRA

Home Minister says police were given free hand to trace, apprehend fugitive

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Udupi

CONFIRMING the arrest of political shadow player and trafficker KS Manjunath aka 'Santro Ravi' from Gujarat, Home Minister Araga Jnanedra on Friday said the police were given a free hand and there was no pressure on them to delay the arrest. The case will proceed as per law, he added.

Four police teams from Ramanagara and Mysuru were hot on his heels, but he escaped thrice in the nick of time, he said. Ravi is accused of engaging in trafficking for the last 20 years.

Defending his statement on arecanut, made during the Belagavi Assembly session that had snowballed into a controversy, Jnanendra said, "I am with arecanut growers, but I had only said the government should not further encourage new arecanut plantations. In Andhra Pradesh, 2,000 acres of arecanut plantations have already started giving yields. If this continues, the price will drop and areca farmers in Malnad and the coast will face problems.

The previous Congress government had submitted an affidavit to the Supreme Court, claiming that there is a carcinogenic substance in arecanut, but we are trying to remove that misgiving by withdrawing the affidavit."

He said the Enforcement Directorate raided the Congress office at Thirthahalli in Shivamogga district on January 11, which was running from a property owned by Mangaluru blast suspect Mohammed Shariq based on the information provided by the terror accused.

On former minister and Congress leader Kimmane Ratnakar's statement that the raid was politically motivated, Jnanendra said he is not politically bankrupt to stoop that low.

On Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah choosing Kolar to contest the Assembly elections, Jnanendra said the former chief minister has picked a 'safe' constituency as he is scared of losing.

He changed appearance to trick cops

BUT after knowing that SPs of other districts were roped in too, he fled to Kerala and from there to Pune. He then travelled to Maharashtra and reached Gujarat on Friday where the police team nabbed him.

Ravi, who is bald, always wore a wig and sported a sharp moustache. However, as police intensified its operation to nab him, he shaved his moustache and removed his wig to hoodwink the police. However, the police managed to detain one of his aides near Mantralaya with the help of Raichur police, who told them that Ravi was in Gujarat.

Alok Kumar said that Suthesh (35), a native of Mysuru, and Ram Ji (45), a native of Kochi, were also been taken into custody along with Ravi on charges of harbouring him.

'Kimmane being maligned unnecessarily'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

TWO days after the news of ED raid and NIA search against former minister Kimmane Ratnakar broke, alleging that he had rented office premises at a building owned by Mangaluru cooker blast accused Shariq, Congress on Friday said the party leader is being maligned unnecessarily.

Congress said Ratnakar's name is being dragged into the Shariq controversy with mischievous intent.

Ratnakar told TNIE, "Everyone knows that BJP MP and former Union Minister of State for HRD Sathyapal Singh, who was previously the Mumbai police commissioner, had given his house on rent to a person who was running flesh trade. Everyone understands that the relationship between an owner and tenant is only transactional and there is no need to draw unnecessary inferences and tarnish anyone's name. It will not affect his or party's political prospects. People of Thirthahalli know me."

Ratnakar said it was not he, but his nephew, who has taken the place on rent and there are three other tenants in the complex. Congress spokesman Ramesh Babu, at a press conference at the KPCC office, said, "If the chief minister does not drop (Home Minister) Araga Jnanendar from the cabinet, Congress will stage a protest at his home constituency Thirthahalli."

Congress spokesman Ramesh Babu said, "With just a short time to go for the elections, Jnanendra should stop trying to tarnish the image of his political opponent Ratnakar. Jnanendra lost elections in 1983, 1985 and 1989. Now he has won and become home minister. His department has faced the PSI and police transfer scandals. He should not use the names of central investigating agencies to tarnish the names of his opponents and Congress leaders."

Cong plans mega-rallies to counter Shah's call to win over Old Mysuru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

BIG response to JDS' Pancharatna yatra and Union Home Minister Amit Shah's call to his partymen to win a large number of seats in Old Mysuru have jolted Congress into action and the party is now planning to organise mega-rallies to retain its hold over the region.

Congress is planning rallies in Vokkaliga-dominated Hassan, Mandya, Chikkamagaluru, Kolar and Chikkaballapur districts. The party has also geared up to hold public meetings in Mysuru, Chamarajanagar, Udupi and Mangaluru.

Party leaders are aiming to mobilise lakhs of workers for the Praja Dhwani Yatra, which will be held in Kolar and Chikkaballapur districts from January 21 to January 26 after a break.

Rajya Sabha member GC Chandrashekar said the failure of the ruling BJP government on all fronts has made people look up to Congress. Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah and KPCC president DK Shvakumar are going on the yatra jointly on the instructions of AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge. The three-month-long campaign from buses will strengthen the party organisation and help win over the electorate, he added.

He said the state government does not have the courage to seek its share of Rs 15,000 crore GST collection from the Centre. It is unfortunate that 25 MPs from BJP did not raise their voice when the state has recorded the second-highest GST collection in the country, he added.

The Centre granted just Rs 10,000 crore as against Rs 85,000 sought by the state for losses caused by floods. Why has the double-engine government failed to deliver, he asked.

He said the government has spent just 42 percent of the budgetary allocation and the agriculture sector is the worst affected as irrigation projects are yet to be completed. How can they spend 60 per cent of the funds in the next two months, he wondered.

KPCC working president R Druvanarayan said Congress will seek votes in the name of development and will expose BJP for implementing less than 10 per cent of the promises made in the manifesto.

He criticised BJP for playing with emotions of people by announcing the construction of Ram temple at Ramanagara and Hanuman temple in Mandya.

Siddu's Kolar bid won't work, says Munirathna

Kolar district in-charge and Horticulture Minister Munirathna on Tuesday said that any efforts by CLP leader Siddaramaiah to contest from Kolar would go in vain, with the former CM having no chance of winning from that constituency. Munirathna further claimed that in-fighting within the Grand Old Party had prompted Siddaramaiah to select Kolar, but he did so without a proper survey or understanding. Hence, any efforts to win from that seat would go waste, he added. He reiterated that Siddaramaiah contesting from Kolar is not a good move. "In the last election, the JDS candidate won. This time, they have fielded a candidate, but no doubt the BJP will win from the Kolar Assembly segment. In the General Election, people here voted for BJP, and now they are keen that the same party should in power both at the Centre and the state for development. Accordingly, the BJP candidate will win from Kolar," he claimed.

Now, divine voice suggests Siddu contest from two seats!

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

AFTER his temple run, a "divine voice" has suggested to Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah to contest from two seats in the next Assembly elections.

Only recently, the Ahinda leader announced that he would contest from Kolar. The suggestion to run from two seats could trigger a war of words, like it did in the previous elections when Siddaramaiah stood from Chamundeshwari and Badami constituencies. But he could buckle under pressure from the family, sources said.

The divine suggestion came when Siddaramaiah's son and MLA Dr Yathindra, accompanied by former minister PM Narendraswamy, offered a special puja at the Asinadu Chikkamma Thayi temple in Chottanahalli near Malavalli.

It is said that the priest, Linganna, who was possessed by the deity, suggested to Siddaramaiah to contest from two seats for a better future. "His detractors are trying to sabotage his chances. I will ensure your victory if you contest as per my advice," the goddess said and told Siddaramaiah to visit the temple.

It is interesting to see whether Siddaramaiah, a socialist, would visit the temple. But he is under a lot of pressure as it is his last election before retiring from his four-decade-old political career. Yathindra said he visited the temple on Saturday. He denied that the divine voice spoke about two seats. "I have not discussed it with anyone nor apprised my father. We can't take decisions based on this voice," he added.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, former chief minister B S Yediyurappa, Speaker Vishweshwar Hegde Kageri and seers lay the foundation stone for the installation of the statues of Basavanna and Kempegowda, in front of Vidhana Soudha in Bengaluru on Friday | EXPRESS

Basava, Kempegowda statues to adorn Soudha

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

WITH the Assembly elections round the corner, the state government is installing statues of 12th-century social reformer Basavanna and Bengaluru founder Nadaprabhu Kempegowda on the Vidhana Soudha premises. The government had earlier installed a 108-feet statue of Kempegowda at the Bengaluru international airport.

CM Basavaraj Bommai, accompanied by former chief minister BS Yediyurappa, ministers and seers, laid the foundation stone for the installation of 4-metre-high bronze statues of Basavanna and Kempegowda. The overall cost of this project is Rs 7 crore. Bommai said the statues will be installed in two months, and will usher in a new era in the state. The inspiration of these two great personalities must echo in the Vidhana Soudha and across the state, and for this purpose, their statues are being installed, he said. The spiritual thinking and the governance of these two great personalities must flow across the state from the Vidhana Soudha, he said.

A strong foundation has been laid to build a new Karnataka for the welfare of all and that work has already started

Basavaraj Bommai, Chief Minister

The CM said a strong foundation has been laid to build a new Karnataka for the welfare of all and that work has already started. The state cabinet has decided to install the statues in front of Vidhana Soudha and then took permission from the presiding officers of the Legislative Assembly and Legislative Council, Visveshwara Hegde Kageri and Basavaraj Horatti, respectively. The work was entrusted to Revenue Minister R Ashoka, the CM said.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi had attended the unveiling of the statue of Kempegowda at the Bengaluru airport.

SECURITY BREACH

Garland gifted to PM by boy sent to FSL for testing

AMIT S UPADHYE @Hubballi

A day after a breach in security of Prime Minister Narendra Modi during a roadshow in Hubballi, the local BJP unit and members from the SSK community have supported the boy. The minor was found very close to the convoy as Modi was passing and he managed to give a garland to the Prime Minister before he was grabbed and moved away by security forces.

As per protocol, the garland was sent to FSL Hubballi for a detailed analysis, but nothing suspicious was found. A report has been submitted to top police officials in Hubballi and to the SPG team that had accompanied Modi.

An investigating official told TNIE that every incident that is reported during VVIP visits is detailed, debated and reported officially. "The garland was subjected to FSL tests as it could be laced with harmful chemicals and poisons. In many VVIP attack cases, children have been used as bait. The security agencies guarding the PM and other VVIPs have shoot-at-sight orders if there is any threat or someone coming into the red zone," the official said.

Union Minister Pralhad Joshi said the incident is being probed by the police and it looks like it was a display of the boy's affection towards Modi. "The boy is a fan of the PM and he tried to get close," he added. BJP leaders in Hubballi had a mixed reaction over the boy being felicitated by a section of BJP workers and members of SSK Community. "The boy just wanted to give the garland to his favourite person. The community is requesting the police to treat it as a normal case and not as a breach of security," said a BJP party worker.

Another leader said there is no way the party stands with the boy or his family. "It's a security breach. This should not have happened as thousands of Modi fans waited to greet him patiently behind the barricades, houses, offices and terraces," he added.

Cong trying to privatise escoms: Min

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

ENERGY Minister Sunil Kumar on Friday hit out at the Congress over its promise of providing every household in the state with 200 units of free electricity every month if voted to power. He said the goal of the Congress through this is to privatise electricity supply companies (escoms).

Calling it a lie, a release from Sunil Kumar's office alleged that when CLP leader Siddaramaiah was the chief minister, he pushed escoms towards bankruptcy and escoms had a debt of Rs 9,000 crore. Now, their poll promise will be a burden to the power utility companies, he said, adding that the Congress should not sell escoms for the sake of votes. The minister further blamed that the Congress failed to provide electricity to farmer pumpsets when in power.

"Now, the same party is promising free power... this is the biggest lie of the century," he quipped. He said after Basavaraj Bommai became the CM, the government has paid Rs 18,000 crore to all the escoms.

Siddu hits back

Meanwhile, Siddaramaiah in a series of tweets said that the BS Yediyurappa government before 2013 had put the escoms to loss. "It is the Congress government which saved escoms. We had invested and not spent unnecessarily. Our government in 2013 to 2018 worked towards generating more power. We will work towards it and ensure 200 units of free power to people," he added.

BELAGAVI TAILOR STITCHES 30X60 FT MODI STYLE JACKET

The 30x60 feet and 1x2 inch Modi jackets created by SS Kakade (right).

TUSHAR A MAJUKAR @Belagavi

SACHIN Shrikant Kakade (48), a tailor from Belagavi, along with 15 other workers, has stitched a humongous 30x60 feet Modi style jacket and two smaller, similar jackets of 1x2 inches in Belagavi. He claimed that it is a world record.

The two mini-jackets will be presented as mementos to Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Minister Pralhad Joshi soon, he added.

Kakade, who is a Modi fan, stitched the massive jacket with the help of designs and measurements provided by architect Anup Jawalkar. He put up the jacket with the help of a crane to welcome Modi during the latter's visit to Hubballi on Thursday.

Kakade told The New Indian Express that he spent Rs 1.25 lakh to make the jacket. He had to take a marriage hall on rent in Belagavi for 15 days to complete the his project. He hired 15 skilled workers, who camped at the marriage hall for the 15 days, to stitch the garment.

Kakade said John and Brown Suiting's Company donated 250 metre of the cloth needed. He had to fabricate a structure weighing around 1,200 kg to display the huge jacket in Hubballi. The crane was hired from Dharwad and it cost him Rs 75,000. On the miniature jackets, Kakade said he spent two days each to complete them, while tailors can complete five normal jackets a day. The 1x2 inch jackets have three pockets, buttons, and all the other finer details, he added.

Tharoor gets warm welcome from Muslims

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kozhikode

CONGRESS leader and MP Shashi Tharoor, who has laid bare his intentions in the state politics, is getting wider support from Muslim organisations, which are the traditional vote bank of the UDF.

Tharoor met the leaders of various Muslim groups during his second phase of the Malabar tour on Friday. After meeting Tharoor, Samastha Kerala Jem-Iyyathul Ulema president Syed Muhammad Jiffiri Muthukoya Thangal did not hide his admiration for the Congress leader. "Tharoor is a world citizen who has wide and rich experience, which can be utilised effectively," Thangal said. He said Tharoor is doing his best to strengthen the party. "He is trying to bring Congress to the mainstream," he said.

Congress MP Shashi Tharoor with Kerala Nadvathul Mujahideen leaders TP Abdulla Koya Madani and Hussein Madavoor in Kozhikode on Friday | EXPRESS

Tharoor also met the leaders of Kerala Nadvathul Mujahideen (KNM) at the Mujahid Centre. He told them that the renaissance movement in Kerala is an example for all communities. He hailed the renaissance efforts of the Mujahid movement and opined that effective steps should be taken to counter the efforts to divide people communally.

Tharoor said his attempt is to reclaim the amity between different communities. KNM state president TP Abdulla Koya Madani, vice-presidents Hussein Madavoor and NV Abdurahman, treasurer Noor Muhammad Noorsha, secretaries Palath Abdurahman Madani, A I Abdul Majeed Swalahi and ISM vice-president Nisar Olavanna took part in the discussions.

Speaking to leaders of the Wisdom Islamic Organisation, Tharoor said Congress will take steps not to let the secular votes divide. He said the BJP has managed to secure rule in states by threatening and luring smaller parties.

Tharoor said the ruling party has not yet presented any documents officially on Uniform Civil Code and the propaganda is only an election stunt.

KNM Markazudawa leaders also met Tharoor on Thursday in Malappuram. They shared the concern over the imposition of Uniform Civil Code and said all secular parties should express solidarity with minorities and other backward sections in society. Markazudawa leaders K P Zakkariyya, IP Abdussalam, MT Manaf and Anwar Sadath were present.

'National Youth Festival is uniting the nation'

ANOTHER youth said they are looking for separate roads for the armed forces and the public. During emergencies, ambulances have to wait for a long time. He also said that they have made good friends throughout the nation and expressed his gratitude to Dharwad youth and administration for taking good care of them at the event.

"We are not complaining but requesting the authorities concerned to provide facilities. We are in need of good transportation facilities and industries," he added.

Irfan Rashid, another youth from the Valley, expressed his joy and said that the National Youth Festival is uniting the entire nation. "People from different states have shown a lot of affection to us which we will take back with us when we return," he said.

"Unfortunately, we are judged on the basis of our religion because of what is being spread on social media. The positive things are not presented. We are hopeful that events like NYF will go a long way in fighting the negative propaganda against us," he added.

National Forensic Sciences University to come up in Hubballi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) has given its nod to establish the off-campus of the National Forensic Sciences University (NFSU) in Hubballi.

Karnataka government was in talks with NFSU Gujarat in connection with the setting up of a campus in the state. Karnataka Home Minister Araga Jnanendra was in Gujarat on a three-day visit this week to discuss with senior officials of the university about setting up the campus in Karnataka.

Referring to the letter written by CM Basavaraj Bommai in May, the MHA wrote to the chief secretary of the State Government on Thursday, conveying the in-principle approval of the MHA for setting up off-campus of NFSU in Hubballi.

"Hence, it is requested that the Government of Karnataka may initiate further action in this regard. The government may invite the officers concerned from the NFSU to finalise the total land requirement and the land transfer protocols at the earliest, in order for NFSU to prepare and submit a Detailed Project Report to the Ministry," the letter stated.

From Jan 16, travel in e-bus between B'luru & Mys

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

TRAVEL to Mysuru from Bengaluru will be swift, smooth, and noiseless with zero emission from January 16 onwards. Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation's (KSRTC) will commence commercial operation of its ambitious electric bus service from Bengaluru to Mysuru with ticket fares priced at Rs 300.

As many as 50 e-buses are expected to be pressed onto six routes from Bengaluru by the end of February.

The e-buses offer superior suspension and come with a television, premium seats, individual charging sockets, AC vents, reading lights and other comforts.

Addressing reporters on Friday, Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation MD Anbu Kumar said, "Owing to various reasons, the launch of e-bus service was delayed by three months. Now, the e-bus delivered to us December 31 has completed trail runs successfully and the first e-bus will start from Bengaluru to Mysuru on January 16. The bus will run non-stop from Bengaluru to Mysuru and as it is a premium service 'passes' will not be allowed."

The buses are expected to run 300km on a single charge.

Fifty e-buses are expected to be pressed onto 6 routes from Bengaluru by the end of February | EXPRESS

"We are expecting delivery of 50 e-buses by February to commence our operations from Bengaluru to Madikeri, Virajpet, Chikkamagaluru, Davanagere and Shivamogga," Anbu Kumar said and added that charging stations are already in place at Bengaluru and Mysuru and in progress at Madikeri, Virajpet, Davanagere, Shivamogga and Chikkamangaluru bus stations.

The buses will be operated by private operator Olectra under Gross Cost Contract (GCC) and KSRTC will be paying Rs 55/km as operational cost, he said.

He added that Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation is adding 650 ordinary buses and 20 Volvo buses in the coming weeks and this is expected to reduce shortage of buses in rural areas.

STATE ORGANS MUST CEASE FIRE TO AVOID CONSTITUTIONAL CHAOS

Vice President Jagdeep Dhankhar has taken the brush between the executive and the judiciary to the next level by questioning the doctrine of basic structure brought in by the Supreme Court through the Kesavananda Bharati judgment in 1973. In his view, the doctrine set a bad precedent. The current tussle between the judiciary and the executive began with the apex court striking down the government's decision to set up a National Judicial Appointments Commission for the appointment of judges to the SC and the high courts. The SC contended that taking away its power to appoint judges would compromise the judiciary's independence, thereby going against the basic structure of the Constitution, which mandates the separation of powers between the judiciary and the executive. Dhankhar made his point quite succinctly, that if any authority questions Parliament's power to amend the Constitution, it would be difficult to say: "We are a democratic nation".

The vice president's remarks may bring into question even the landmark Golaknath ruling of the SC. The court had ruled in the 1967 Golaknath vs State of Punjab case that Parliament could not curtail any of the fundamental rights guaranteed in the Constitution. The Constitution has given the SC the power to review laws made by the legislature and check their constitutional validity. Given the complex nature of arguments on both sides, the current tangle could be long-drawn. The two organs of the State have enough powers to transform people's lives. They must work in their respective domains with the spirit of accommodation and cooperation. The constant probing of the judiciary's stands on crucial issues has given the opposition parties an opportunity to make themselves heard as well. The Congress was quick to recall the remarks of former vice president Venkaiah Naidu that none of the three organs of the State—legislature, judiciary or executive—can claim to be supreme; it is the Constitution that is supreme.

The Left parties, too, have cautioned against undermining judicial independence. They have expressed the resolve to oppose any system of judicial appointments where the government plays the dominant role. All sides must cease fire and not allow the country to enter constitutional chaos.

UNWANTED FOOD DEBATE AT KERALA ARTS FESTIVAL

This time the Kerala School Arts Festival, the largest gathering of budding artists in Asia, hit the headlines for the wrong reasons. More than enjoying the feast of dance and music presentations, people seem to have relished the controversy surrounding the food served, spicing up the debate with communal and casteist ingredients. As it usually happens, the spark flared from social media. Questions were raised about the practice of serving only vegetarian spreads for the contestants and officials, a custom followed for decades. Heavy phrases like 'Brahminical hegemony' were casually and irresponsibly thrown into the discourse, making the master chef's caste the main focus of the debate, not the food he served.

As the clamour for a non-veg menu got louder, Minister for Education V Sivankutty suddenly declared that the government would consider changing the festival manual to bring in the change. The contour of the discussion then changed with the Hindu Aikya Vedi asserting that it would block halal food. Veg and non-veg thus became not just two varieties of food but the symbols of two cultures, which are jostling for supremacy. As the controversy raged, the chef, Pazhayidom Mohanan Namboothiri, announced he will stay away from the festival from now on. He also made a disturbing observation that his team had to stand guard in the kitchen as he feared sabotage.

The unwanted debate has left a lingering distaste. The government should have acted more responsibly and curtailed the discussion before it took a communal turn. As Indian Union Muslim League leader K P A Majeed said, Sivankutty could have ignored the demand for non-veg food raised through inconsequential social media accounts. Those who triggered the debate probably had nefarious intentions, and, unfortunately, the government fell prey to their designs. It should have considered the practical issues involved in including non-veg in a feast that is served to more than 20,000 people at a time.

Moreover, no one has complained about the quality of the vegetarian food served in the past. What is important is serving safe food, not providing variety. The debate is also a warning signal. Recent developments in Kerala highlight the alarming fact that even innocuous and insignificant issues are assuming communal dimensions with the slightest provocation. It points to the presence of a deep-seated malady in Kerala society, which looks for occasions to manifest itself.

QUICK TAKE

ENSURE TIME-BOUND TRIALS

The trial in the 2021 Lakhimpur Kheri case about protesting farmers over-run allegedly by a vehicle of a Union minister's son may take five years to complete. The trial court tells the Supreme Court that hearing 208 witnesses and scrutinising hundreds of documents takes that much time. With appeals, that's close to a decade for any closure. The SC has enacted procedures for speedy and time-bound trials. The core is classifying witnesses and scheduling depositions and translations on consecutive days. Lack of uniformity and clarity in trial court proceedings causes the delay. The trial courts must necessarily follow these guidelines.

A respected governor is an asset to his or her state. But what he or she is not supposed to be is an agent of the Central government for political and divisive ends

THE CASE OF THE INTRACTABLE GOVERNOR

SRIRAM PANCHU

Senior Advocate, High Court, Madras

The governors of Indian states have in recent times enhanced their penchant for controversy. Even so, Tamil Nadu's incumbent struck a particular low in omitting portions of the Governor's address while inaugurating the new term of the Legislative Assembly, and by his walk-out after the chief minister moved a motion to take the original speech on record. The address is meant to be a message of the government laying out its vision and policy; it is often laudatory and not lacking in self-esteem. That is expected, and the governor is expected to read his speech as prepared and sent to him earlier. He could perhaps balk at inflammatory or anti-constitutional language, in which event he would return the speech for appropriate changes.

Ravi however sprung a surprise by refusing to read passages which had nothing objectionable, being just pats on the back; worse, he refused to take the names of tall leaders like Periyar, Ambedkar, Kamaraj, Annadurai and Karunanidhi, and eschewed mention of the Dravidian model of governance. To top it all, he left in a huff without waiting for the national anthem. Within a few minutes he displayed blatant disregard and disrespect for constitutional practice and convention, the state and its leaders, and the assembly and its proceedings.

Actions such as these bring into controversy and disrepute the office of the governor. He or she is the Head of the State, but only a ceremonial one. The occupant must act on the basis of the aid and advice of the Council of Ministers, and has little independent scope in governance. The major exceptions are to determine which party commands a majority in the House, and to return a Bill for reconsideration. It is largely formal, consisting of plenty of ribbon-cutting and inaugurating, and it is well accepted that one does not take too much notice of gubernatorial speeches unless the person is one whom one would heed before and after their term in office.

Rather waspishly, governors have been referred to as glorified innkeepers in reference to their palatial residences which must put up state guests. However, there are plenty of brass bands and gold braids and ADCs and red carpets, and that can sometimes bring about a delusion of power and grandeur. That's when the problem starts.

Governors perform best when they perform within their limitations, because essentially it is an office with limitations.

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Many governors are politicians on pasture, past their prime and needing to be housed well. Some have borne marks of distinction in administration or academia or other fields. They are meant to be above and beyond politics, being persons commanding respect, whose advice merits a listening ear, and whose presence enhances an occasion.

A good governor can play a useful calming role in Centre–state relationships, smoothening the federal friction that can arise when the political line-up is one of odds. A respected governor is an asset to his state and a key representative in a mould different from a political chief minister. But what the governor is not supposed to be is an agent of the Central government for political and divisive ends. Sadly, as we look around it is the latter which we encounter more. Ravi is a prime example, both visible and voluble, in his espousement of causes and ideology dear to the party ruling at the centre. That cannot but bring him into conflict with his government in Tamil Nadu, and indeed that leads soon enough to the question whether this was why he was sent here.

Ravi is no Ribeiro. The latter was a police officer who had acquired much distinction by the time he retired from the force, and he went on to become advisor to the governor of Punjab and Indian Ambassador to Romania. By contrast little is known of Ravi's achievements while in the IPS and the IB. He was the interlocutor of the Indian government in talks with the militant Naga groups; headway seems to have been made but the effort floundered amidst accusations by the Nagas against Ravi. So it is not clear which impressive achievement propelled him to governordom; lacking this, speculation will naturally arise that skills of intelligence and counter-intelligence were key determinants.

And indeed Ravi's tenure in Tamil Nadu has been marked by discord and disruption on frequent occasions. Not the least is the manner in which he has frustrated about 20 pieces of state legislation by the simple expedient of keeping them in his waiting tray; rejection invites reiteration after which he has no option. Tamil Nadu is a key opposition state, not an easy nut to crack for the ruling party at the centre, and gubernatorial assistance would be quite welcome.

Some wholesome reflection and correction on his part following the rather petulant walk-out would have been welcome, but matters appear contrary. The next day, addressing aspiring entrants to the civil service, he opined that when they face challenges involving a conflict between the Centre and a state, they were obliged to choose the former because they were appointees of the UPSC. That is a good pointer to his thinking and behaviour.

From a governor, however, one would expect the sagacious advice of doing the right thing by the Constitution and the law. Ravi's latest initiative is to rename the state; he wants to discard Tamil Nadu—land of the Tamils, and instead use the expression Tamizhagam—area occupied by Tamils.

Clearly the limits of office trouble him not, and he seems to have crossed over into the theatre of imaginings. It is time that the Centre realised that its man in Tamil Nadu does it more harm than good, and recalls him to spare the people of the state further embarrassment.

REARMING CIVILIANS AND THE MATTER OF OVERSIGHT

KAJAL BASU

Veteran journalist

A shade more than a week after the terrorist killings of seven Hindus in Dhangri village in the Rajouri district of Jammu, the Union Ministry of Home Affairs ordered the revivification of Village Defence Groups (VDGs) in all ten districts of Jammu. In their earlier avatar, which lasted 26 years, VDGs were known as Village Defence Committees (VDCs).

They comprised a ragtag, semi-trained civilian armed militia, maintained by government fiat, that formed the fourth layer of antiterrorist defence after the Indian Army, the paramilitary, and the Jammu & Kashmir Police. For a quarter-century now, roughly 5,000 VDCs have had a floating membership of 26,500–28,000 members, many of them deactivated over the past decade by both government whimsy and unpaid remuneration. Now, they are being regalvanised with more fearsome (and free) weaponry, more monies in hand, and official status as junior police functionaries.

For all their fame (and infamy), VDCs were armed with the blunderbusses of this golden age of armamentation: obsolete World War II-vintage, single-shot, bolt-action Lee Enfield .303s. The newfangled VDGs are being armed with Ishapore SLRs (self-loading rifles).

While VDCs have been credited with helping the security forces nab or neutralise terrorists, the proof of such force multiplying is nearly entirely anecdotal. No data exists on how many encounters they have engaged in or how many terrorists they have killed or helped neutralise. It is difficult to imagine how, armed with heavy, high-recoil, low rate-of-fire bacamartes, they might have taken on terrorists—experts at riflery—with modern-day weapons. On the other hand, what is not abstract is the involvement of members of the VDCs in criminality. In 2016, the Jammu and Kashmir government informed the state legislative assembly that 221 criminal cases had been filed against village defenders in Jammu, including 23 cases of murder and seven cases of rape, 15 cases of rioting, three anti-drug cases and 169 other cases, out of which charges have been filed in 205 cases. However, the conviction rate in the cases against VDCs is abysmal, with only six cases ending in a conviction.

These are not small numbers and are likely just the tip of the iceberg since armed village defence members are not exactly uninfluential.

At the same time, it is doubtful that arming VDGs with SLRs—and 100 bullets per unit—will contain terrorists. First, terrorists have months—if not years—of training behind them; the VDGs will have cursory training in operating semiautomatic rifles. Second, the terrorists almost always have strategies and tactics; the VDGs will have to confront them head-on in the service of hyperlocal protection. Third, there are fewer terrorists today in Jammu and Kashmir from across the border than there are homegrown 'hybrid' ones: locals with no history of anti-state action, and, therefore, untraceable both before and after the fact; and these locals know the lie of the land in as great microdetail as the VDGs. Fourth, as the security forces realised long ago, terrorists are maniacally suicidal; VDGs, being civilians without catastrophist agendas, are not. Fifth, terrorists are, by definition, proactive, just as VDGs will, by definition, activate themselves or be activated ex post facto.

PTI

> While Village Defence Committees have been credited with helping the security forces nab or neutralise terrorists, the proof of such force multiplying is nearly entirely anecdotal

These are significant drawbacks. For instance, the terrorist attacks on Dhangri—a Hindu-majority village of about 5,000 inhabitants, including 1,500 Muslims—happened despite the presence of nine VDCs with, reportedly, 71 Lee Enfields and adequate ammunition between them. "Their members had recently undergone training with the army but were probably unaware and complacent at the time of the recent attacks," a police officer told the media. Only one of the village defenders fired—a single round, into the air.

Nevertheless, the rearming of civilians throughout the ten districts of Jammu began with handing out SLRs to 40 ex-servicemen in Dhangri and nearby Bal Jarallan (which last suffered a terrorist incident in 1999). Rajouri district alone is reported to have 5,200 operational VDGs.

What the security forces refer to as "special firing practice sessions" for volunteers—daylong en masse exercises usually held in army firing ranges—will not even begin to address the problem of adequate training and long-term motivation. These are just gap-fillers in what increasingly seems to be a political rather than a security programme to create an inadequate and vulnerable militia placed, by special diktat, an inch on this side of a fundamentally anti-vigilante law.

VDCs were first set in motion in 1996 by the top BJP leader Lal Krishna Advani. Even though the party was not a major league in J&K then, it was emphatic, and under Advani, over his following years as No. 2 in the Central government, the composition of VDCs became overwhelmingly Hindu, even in Muslim-majority districts.

Of the ten districts with VDGs, five are Muslim-majority, and one is nearly half-Hindus, half-Muslims. In the Chenab Valley—the erstwhile Doda district, which now consists of Doda, Kishtwar and Ramban districts—Muslims constitute 61% of the population (Census 2011).

However, according to Right to Information feedback, more than 90% of VDC members in the region are Hindu. The imbalance has not altered over a decade: a 2013 report by the Jammu and Kashmir Coalition of Civil Society concluded that of 12,709 VDC members in the Chenab valley, an average of 93.2% were Hindu.

Everywhere in the world, what are called pro-government militias (PGMs)—Civilian Joint Task Force in Nigeria, village guards in Turkey, Rwanda's Interahamwe militia, Janjaweed in Darfur, Basij in Iran, Zimbabwe African National Union – Patriotic Front, Burundi's Imbonerakure—are notoriously difficult to control. In One or Many? Disentangling the Puzzle of Pro-Government Militia Deployment, Kamil Klosek and Emil Souleimanov write that PGMs are "notoriously unreliable military formations", lacking discipline, agenda-driven, excessively violent against civilians and "hard to demobilise".

If things go south—in a bristling communal habitat and in thrall to political forces, why wouldn't they?—VDGs will be difficult to disband.

Demonetisation verdict

Apropos of Demonetisation verdict: Rhetoric and reality (Jan 13). Though the Central government had a technical win, people suffered a lot due to the introduction of demonetisation. It was indeed a big failure as it failed to meet the important goal of completely removing black money.
P Victor Selvaraj, Tirunelveli

Turning a Nelson's eye

Apropos of the Demonetisation verdict: Rhetoric and reality (Jan 13). The columnist has rightly drawn attention to the fact that the SC judgment upholding the legality of the government's demonetisation exercise has completely glossed over the merits or demerits and suffering. The judgment has left out the debate on whether the objectives of demonetisation have been achieved or not.
C V Aravind, Bengaluru

An abrupt conclusion

It is not in the interest of the country to doubt the intentions of the Centre on its demonetisation policy even after the SC's favourable verdict. One cannot abruptly conclude that the policy was a total failure. Just after demonetisation, people's choice of electing the party in power in various elections shows that they are not disgusted with this policy.

Education with a value

Apropos of Value education a must-learn for all (Jan 13). The editorial is timely and has underscored the importance of moral and value education. The adults who earlier learned this will be responsible, law-abiding citizens and respect others. Bureaucrats who imbibe this will do their work with diligence. This will help build a humane society and an independent and democratic nation.

Joshimath and nature's wrath

Apropos of Joshimath disaster a result of deliberate negligence (Jan 13). The current calamity in Joshimath is due to the increasing population in the area. The disaster in 2013 was because of human activities that, in an attempt to boost convenience, compromised nature's health. Nobody can compete with nature. Development is right to an extent but should not bring things to the point of destruction. It seems like we have forgotten the geography that we learned in school.

Curbing animal attacks

Apropos of Wayanad farmer killed in tiger attack; shoot the beast, demand agitated locals (Jan 13). Wayanad farmer Thomas' death is the last straw. It is clear that neither the government nor the forest department is taking this issue seriously. The tolerance of farmers cannot be taken for granted by the government.

MGNREGA app rollout begins with glitches

With attendance not being registered, workers in most states adversely affected

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE New Year has brought fresh troubles for 30-year-old Sudhama Devi, who has been struggling to cope with the changes in the attendance pattern of Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA) which has become mandatory from 1st January.

A daily wage worker enrolled with NREGA in Bihar's Muzaffarpur, Devi has been relentlessly fidgeting with her budget smartphone in the past ten days to understand the app-based attendance, which takes geo tagged and time-stamped photographs of workers twice a day. According to a new directive issued by the ministry of rural development on December 23, it was compulsory for all work sites to capture attendance on the mobile app — National Mobile Monitoring System (NMMS). The government says that the mechanism will stop pilferage and will check fake attendance on the muster rolls.

Devi, a mate (supervisor) of the worksite in her village Kharauna Dih, was unable to mark the attendance of around 300 workers for the past 10 days due to continuous glitches in the app, she tells this newspaper over phone. "The app requires me to take photographs in the morning between 9- 11 am and in the evening between 2-4 pm. But the app gets stuck halfway and it's impossible to feed even a few pictures in the app," she said.

Out of the 300 workers in our panchayat, only a small number have got their attendance so far. "Now that there is no physical muster roll, we stand to lose our daily wages," she says.

LOSS OF LABOUR

Digital attendance of workers employed under MGNREGA became universal from January 1, 2023

To ensure more transparency, accountability, efficiency and monitoring, and then weed out corruptions reported in the process of implementation

However, the technicalities of the connected app and lack of smart phones with labourers have almost made it a non-starter

Most of the labourers complain that they have missed out of the attendance register

The scheme, which ensures rural families the right to 100 days of employment every year, has been a lifeline for Devi's five member family including three children. However, for thousands including Devi, the rural job scheme has hit roadblock in many states such as Rajasthan, Jharkhand, Chhattisgarh, Bihar and UP with technical glitches and poor internet connectivity plaguing the attendance system. It is adding to the woes of the workers. Nikhil Dey, founding member of Mazdoor Kisan Shakti Sangathan, told this paper that workers in most states are adversely affected by the technological intervention.

RSS advises Centre to make Feb budget pro middle class

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

BASED on the people's feedback received reportedly from across the country, the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh, the ideological mentor of the Bharatiya Janata Party, is learnt to have advised both the BJP and Prime Minister-led central government that the upcoming annual budget and policies must mind the expectations and requirements of the middle class.

The RSS has particularly said to have informed the BJP about the displeasure growing among the middle class over some issues like inflation, unemployment and others.

A functionary of the RSS told this newspaper that the senior leadership of the RSS has conveyed its concerns about the middle class to the BJP and the Central government in recent communications.

It may be recalled here that RSS general secretary Dattatreya Hosabale had recently expressed his concern about the poverty that is prevalent in the country. He had also spoken about the unemployment in the country. Many people in the BJP had raised eyebrows over Hosabale's concerns.

> The people from the middle class have shared their economic problems with the Sangh functionaries. So, the BJP and the government have been informed about their displeasure and the expectations they have with the government
>
> An RSS functionary

The RSS functionary said that the Sangh has asked the BJP and the Centre to present the annual budget by keeping the middle-class in focus.

The budget will be presented on February 1, and it will be the last budget of the current NDA government. "The people from the middle class have shared their economic problems through various channels with the Sangh functionaries. So, the BJP and the government have been informed about their displeasure and the expectations they have with the government ahead of the next elections," the RSS functionary said.

The middle class people have stood with every tough decisions of the government since the time of the demonetisation to the outbreak of Covid-19 pandemic. "They have expectations from the government as well as the BJP. The BJP and the government have reportedly been informed about the growing support towards the old pension scheme," said the functionary.

The Centre has also been reasked to think over the middle class problems and the old age pension scheme.

BHOPAL GAS TRAGEDY: OVER 38 YEARS LATER

December 3, 1984, in the worst industrial disaster, methyl isocyanate gas leaks from UCIL pesticide plant, killing over 3,500 people, according to official figures. On December 7, Carbide chairman Warren Anderson flies to Bhopal. He is arrested at airport; released on $2,000 bail; leaves India. Union Carbide named 10th defendant in a criminal case for wrongful deaths.

COMPENSATION TIMELINE

1985:- FEBRUARY: Union govt files $3.3 billion lawsuit against Union Carbide in US court

NOVEMBER 26: Judge Keenan approves plan to disburse $5 million relief funds

1986:- SEPTEMBER 9: Indian govt seeks $3 billion, sues on behalf of the victims in the Bhopal district court

1987:- DECEMBER 17: Bhopal District Judge MW Deo orders Union Carbide to pay victims roughly $270 million in pre-trial interim relief

1989:- FEBRUARY: Indian govt and Union Carbide settle out of court, and Union Carbide awards $470 million in compensation

1992:- JANUARY: Part of $470 million distributed to Bhopal gas victims

2004:- JULY: Supreme Court orders the central bank to pay out more than ₹15 billion, part of the original $470 million received as compensation held in a dollar account since 1992

OCTOBER: Bhopal gas victims protest the govt failure to pay compensation to victims

OCTOBER: Supreme Court sets November 15 as the deadline for paying compensation. Authorities begin distributing compensation

CURATIVE PETITION TIMELINE IN SC

- DEC 2010 petition seeks additional compensation of ₹7,413 cr and re-examination of SC order dated Feb 14, 1989, where the compensation was fixed at $470 mn (₹750 cr)
- The earlier death figure was 3,000 and that for injury cases was 70,000. However, the actual number of deaths is 5,295 and the injury figure stands at 5,27,894
- IN SEPT 2022, a constitution bench gave Solicitor General Tushar Mehta time till Oct 11 to seek direction from Center whether it wants to "press" its curative petition seeking enhancement of compensation, which was already paid out by Union Carbide
- IN OCT 2022, Attorney General R Venkataramani informs the bench that the Union government was keen to pursue the curative petition
- ON JAN 10, 2023, Harish Salve appearing for Union Carbide apprises the bench that the Union government has filed new sets of documents and that UCC was not willing to pay a "farthing" more
- Justice Kaul tells the Union govt not to treat the curative petition as a retrial
- Justice Nath expresses concern that the tragedy happened in 1984 and the settlement was arrived at in 1989, yet the govt didn't have the correct data on the number of people affected
- Salve apprised the bench that as per the govt affidavit filed in Oct 2006, each and every claimant has received compensation
- In reply, A-G says the same did not take into account the increase in the number of death and injury recorded subsequently
- ON JAN 11, 2023, SC tells Centre that curative plea cannot be tried as a suit or a "review of review" petition. It questions why Centre was waiting for UCC to pay when Centre, as a welfare state, should have come forward to pay on its own
- ON JAN 12, 2023, a five-judge bench reserves verdict in curative plea

Rahul writes to public, says fight hatred, flags despair in country

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

AS the Bharat Jodo Yatra enters its last leg in Jammu and Kashmir next week, senior Congress leader Rahul Gandhi said that there is a deep sense of hopelessness across the country. Summing up his experience during the yatra, Gandhi said that our plurality is under threat and divisive forces are attempting to turn our diversity against us — different religions, communities, and regions are being pitted against each other.

In a letter addressed to citizens released on Friday, he vowed to eradicate the social evils — from the streets to the Parliament every day.

"These forces, which are only a handful in number, know that only when people feel insecure and scared can they sow the seeds of hatred for the 'other'. But after this yatra, I am convinced that this vicious agenda has its limits, and it cannot go any longer," he wrote.

"I heard all your stories along the way. People are worried about losing their jobs, their incomes are falling further, and their dreams of a better future are shattering. Joblessness among the youth, unbearable price rise, severe farm distress, and complete corporate capture of the country's wealth is brewing," he wrote.

"People are worried about losing their jobs, their incomes are falling further, and their dreams of a better future are shattering," he said.

Gandhi further said that he will work towards creating economic prosperity for everyone, the right price for farmers' produce, jobs for our youth, fair distribution of the country's wealth, an enabling environment for MSMEs and entrepreneurs, cheaper diesel, a stronger rupee, and a gas cylinder for ₹500.

SC agrees to consider whether Muslim girls can marry at 16

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday agreed to consider as to whether young girls being over 16 years of age can marry once she attains puberty on the basis of custom or personal law when such marriages constitute an offense under the penal code such as IPC.

A bench of CJI DY Chandrachud and Justice PS Narasimha also directed for not treating as precedent recent observations of Punjab and Haryana HC that 16-year-old Muslim girl can enter into valid marriage after attaining puberty irrespective of POCSO. The order was passed in a batch of pleas by NCPCR challenging a Punjab and Haryana HC's ruling which held 16-year-old Muslim girl can enter into valid marriage after attaining puberty. The HC had also observed that, "The petitioner No.2 being over 16 years of age was competent to enter into a contract of marriage with a person of her choice. Petitioner No.1 is stated to be more than 21 years of age. Thus, both the petitioners are of marriageable age as envisaged by Muslim Personal Law. In any event, the issue in hand is not with regard to the validity of the marriage but to address the apprehension raised by the petitioners of danger to their life and liberty at the hands of the private respondents and to provide them protection as envisaged under Article 21 of the Constitution of India."

Apprising the bench of the issue which was required to be considered, S-G Tushar Mehta for apex child rights body said, "The question is can you plead custom of personal law as defence to criminal offence?" Contending that other HCs might also cite Punjab & Haryana HCs observations, SG also sought for a stay of the observations. Considering S-G's submissions, CJI DY Chandrachud said, "What will happen is, the moment we grant a stay- she may be restored to her parents. We'll issue notice and we will say that in meantime the judgment will not be cited."

The SC on Friday refused to entertain the bail petition of Naresh T Jain, the internal auditor of travel firm Cox & Kings India and its group companies, who is in jail in connection with a money laundering case related to the `3,642-crore Yes Bank loan scam. Jain's bail plea was earlier rejected by trial court.

SC grants bail to Vyapam scam whistleblower

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday granted bail to Dr Anand Rai the whistleblower in the Vyapam scam case. He was arrested in the case over alleged violence during a dharna organised by Jai Adiwasi Yuva Shakti.

Considering the period spent by him in custody, a bench of CJI DY Chandrachud and Justice PS Narasimha granted Rai bail subject to imposition of terms and conditions by the Trial Court. "Man is ophthalmologist. He's a whistleblower in Vyapam scam. How long will we keep him in jail now?" CJI DY Chandrachud remarked.

"Having regard to period of custody, we are of view that petitioners is released on bail subject to terms and conditions by Trial Court," bench said in its order.

Rai had preferred the plea against MP HCs December 12, 2022 ruling wherein the HC while refusing to release him for offence u/s 14A(2) of SC and ST Act, 1989. Rai was arrested on November 15, 2022 while he was returning back to Indore.

UN, IMF and World Bank need reforms, says Modi

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

THE developing world is concerned about the increasing fragmentation of the international landscape. Geopolitical tensions distract us from focusing on our development priorities, that causes sharp swings in international prices of food, fuel, fertilisers and other commodities, said Prime Minister Narendra Modi, during the concluding session of the first Voice of Global South Summit.

PM Modi also said that to address this geopolitical fragmentation reforms are needed in major international organisations, including the United Nations Security Council and the Bretton Woods institutions (which includes the World Bank and International Monetary Fund).

"These reforms should focus on giving voice to the concerns of the developing world, and reflect the realities of the 21st Century. India's G20 Presidency will attempt to voice the views of the Global South on these important issues," Modi added.

After extending support by supplying Covid vaccines to over 100 countries during the pandemic, the PM announced a new "Aarogya Maitri" project' under which India will provide essential medical supplies to any developing country affected by natural disasters or humanitarian crisis.

"For synergising our diplomatic voice, I propose a 'Global-South Young Diplomats Forum', to connect youthful officers of our foreign ministries. India will also institute 'Global-South Scholarships' for students from developing countries to pursue higher education in India," he added.

Army backs 'Soul of Steel' contest to promote tourism in mountains

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE Indian Army has decided to support an initiative of the veterans which is aimed to promote adventure tourism and is expected to create jobs for the locals in the state of Uttarakhand. The 'Soul of Steel' challenge on the lines of the 'Ironman triathlon' long-distance triathlon challenge in Europe which tests an individual physically is set to be launched in India but with an added challenge of high-altitude endurance.

The first edition is set to be formally launched on January 14 and the effort is spearheaded by a venture CLAW Global that is being run by the veterans of the Army. Speaking about the idea of the venture, Major Vivek Jacob (retd) of CLAW Global said, "The idea behind the Soul of Steel is making a pool of skill sets and creating a challenge that will unlock human ability to survive, stabilise and thrive in high altitude areas."

It is an endurance challenge in high altitude for civilians.

Initially there would be 12 Indian participants and six international teams. The age profile to apply is 18 to 30 years.

"The challenge will be spread over three months. It will also enable life skill training, youth development, global promotion of adventure tourism in Uttarakhand and also display the skillset of veterans," he stated.

The challenge is divided into four stages: Stage1: jungle and mountain training over 40 days; Stage 2: high altitude training over 30 days; Stage 3: refresher course for international teams over 15 days and Stage 4: the challenge over seven days.

'Zoo' inside Bharatpur national park upsets activists

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

REPORTS of a zoological garden being created inside the Keoladeo National Park in Rajasthan's Bharatpur have upset wildlife enthusiasts and environmentalists. They said that 'activities' within the core would not only destroy the natural habitat but disturb flora and fauna in the protected area, which is also a World Heritage Site.

An online petition has been launched to draw attention of the state government for the protection of the Park.

However, the officials privy to the development in the sanctuary, said that the authorities are only developing 'enclosures' to breed and reintroduction of extinct species such as Jungle Cat, Fishing Cat, and Black Buck.

"Enclosures, with a purpose to reintroduce extinct species, are built on 40-50 hectares, where breeding is carried out. This is basically a sheltered area for the newly born or offspring. They are to be protected from carnivores. Once they survive and fully grow, they are released and relocated to the main forest area. This has happened in other sanctuaries or parks in Rajasthan. Enclosure in Bharatpur is for reintroduction of Jungle Cat, Fishing Cat and Black Buck," said an official of the Keoladeo National Park.

'Wide tracks being built in the sanctuary'

A local birding enthusiast, living in the vicinity of the Park, alleged that 'wide tracks' are being built in the sanctuary for which earthmovers have been pressed into service

A local birding enthusiast, living in the vicinity of the Park, alleged that 'wide tracks' are being built in the sanctuary for which earthmovers have been pressed into service. "Because of the movement of tractors and heavy vehicles, bushes and shrubs have been destroyed. There is resentment among wildlife enthusiasts including local activists. Some of them staged a protest a few days ago," he added.

Arindam Tomar, Chief Wildlife Warden (CWLW), Rajasthan, said that no enclosure had been built inside the Park. However, he admitted that indeed there is a proposal to set up a zoological garden.

"Under the 'management plan' approved in July 2021, there is a proposal for a zoological garden, for which we need to take sanction from Central Zoo Authority (CZA). But the fact is that we haven't applied for the same yet," he said.

The CWLW said that only kachcha water storage tanks called 'diggis' are being constructed near the gate, not in the core area as it was being claimed.

"These water storage pits will help to cater to the demand when required," Tomar added.

DISMISSED

Bihar government dismissed 64 doctors from service for remaining absent from duty without authorisation for over five years, officials said. The decision was taken at a cabinet meeting chaired by CM Nitish Kumar.

Joshimath sank by 5.4cm in just 12 days, says Isro

'New Joshimath' emerges on govt's drawing board as part of relocation of affected people

NARENDRA SETHI @ Joshimath

THE Uttarakhand government and the Centre are "very much concerned" over a report of the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) on the drastic changes in the landscape of Joshimath, plagued by land sinking. Since the report points to far-reaching consequences, the state government plans to set up a "new Joshimath".

The ISRO and the National Remote Sensing Centre (NRSC) have released satellite images of Joshimath and a preliminary report on land submergence, which show that the entire city is on the verge of being submerged. The most shocking revelation in the report is that in a span of only 12 days – from December 27, 2022, to January 8, 2023 — Joshimath was submerged by 5.4 centimeters. For most of 2022, the pace of submergence was slow in the 8-month period from April to November.

The concern expressed by geologists, experts and scientists of the Department of Space after the Joshimath land submergence crisis clearly indicates that in the near future, the existence of this legendary city may be consigned to the pages of history. The ISRO report is also a cause for concern for a different reason: Joshimath is the last district on the India-China border and thus holds immense strategic importance.

'Govt lands to be selected on locals' suggestions'

Joshimath is the last district on the India-China border and thus holds immense strategic importance. District Magistrate Himanshu Khurana told this paper that the government land would be selected only on the suggestions of the affected families. "Such suggestions are being given by the local people. Before finalising the land, a geological survey will be done before re-settlement.

District Magistrate Himanshu Khurana told this paper that the government land would be selected only on the suggestions of the affected families. "Such suggestions are being given by the local people. Before finalising the land, a geological survey will be done before re-settlement," he said.

Dr Ajay Paul, a senior scientist at Wadia Institute of Himalayan Geology, welcomed the government move to set up a new Joshimath. "If all new constructions are carried out keeping in mind the anti-earthquake demands, such problems can undoubtedly be overcome in the future," said Paul.

Environmentalist Ravi Chopra blames NTPC for Joshimath's plight. "The town is the most sensitive area. The stones are hard rocks. But there are cracks on them, which are filled with soil. That's why NTPC is suing explosives in the tunnel construction," says Chopra.

Hyderabad-based NRSC has released satellite images of the entire city, the Army helipad and the under-submerged areas, including the Narasimha Temple. These are marked vulnerable. Based on ISRO's initial report, the state government is carrying out rescue operations in danger areas and people in these areas are being evacuated to safer places on a priority.

According to government sources, the exercise is to set up a new Joshimath on the lines of New Tehri. At present, some government lands have been identified. The land survey and geological study of these lands are being carried out.

On the other hand, government land is being sought at the administrative level for setting up the new Joshimath. In this work, from revenue to municipal and block officers, personnel have been engaged.

Sources say a high-resolution mapping database of Joshimath city will be prepared. GSI Director Dr Prasoon Jana said with the help of a high-resolution map, it will be convenient to set up a new Joshimath along with a disaster management mechanism in Joshimath town. Sources say the horticulture department owns about five hectares at Kotibagh, just above Joshimath town.

Similarly, NTPC land is available in Dhak village on Malari Road.

Alarm bells ring for HP villages near infra projects

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

A redux of Joshimath being blamed on ambitious infrastructure projects is unfolding in parts of Himachal Pradesh. Take a look: cracks have appeared in Meeru village in Kinnaur district. Several villages along the Kiratpur-Manali highway complain of the sudden appearance of cracks in their homes.

The main road leading to McLeodganj (the capital of the Tibetan government-in-exile) from Dharamsala is sinking in many places, and the iconic Ridge in Shimla may turn unsafe soon, threatening the British-era landmarks that adorn the place.

The common thread running through the tragedy-in-the-making is massive construction work — tunneling work for a hydel project in some remote village or road widening works in places where the strength of the soil is now being questioned.

Geologists have set alarm bells ringing for McLeodganj in Dharamsala. Geologist AK Mahajan says one needs to identify and do small-scale landslide mapping to avert disasters. "We must also study the drainage system in the hill towns. Road-cutting and tunnel boring need to be done with scientific methods and not haphazardly as it is the main cause of destruction," he said.

> We have sought a report from Municipal Commissioner and Town and Country Planner. If the situation so warrants, we would indeed work with experts
> Nipun Jindal, Kangra DC

Kangra DC Nipun Jindal says though discussions have taken place about the threat to McLeodganj, no scientific report has ever been submitted. "We have sought a detailed report from Municipal Commissioner and Town and Country Planner. If the situation so warrants, we would indeed work with experts and stakeholders."

Tikenber Singh Panwar, former deputy mayor of Shimla and a leading environmentalist, told this paper that people have been informing the authorities about the cracks in houses in Meeru village of Kinnaur district. "The perception is that the 1,100MW Karcham-Wangtoo project and construction of highways have brought the situation to this pass," he says.

Bihar min under fire for religious remark

Bihar education minister Prof. Chandrshekhar has created a political uproar by alleging that Ramcharitmanas creates animosity in the society. He has clubbed Ramcharitmanas with Manusmriti and Golwalkar's 'Bunch of Thoughts'. Bihar CM Nitish Kumar played safe by saying he is not aware of his colleague's statement and said he will talk to him about it. Congress, however, took exception to Prof Chandrashekar's remark, apparently apprehensive of polarisation of votes in favour of BJP. BJP demanded immediate removal of Chandrashekhar from the state education department.

Criminals use social media for murder deals

Bihar police recently arrested a gang of criminals that used to operate through a digital platform. 'Hatya ke liye yahan sampark karen' (Contact here for murder)' a WhatsApp group being run by some anti-socials came to light following the arrest of its seven members from Patna. Patna ASP Abhinav Dhiman said that the gang was also running YouTube by the name of 'Kings of Kalia' and asked people to contact them for contract killing. The antecedents of all members were being verified. Illegal weapons, some cash and a stolen motorbike were recovered during a raid at their hideouts in the state capital.

AIIMS-Darbhanga to get a new location

Bihar chief minister Nitish Kumar made it clear that AIIMS-Darbhanga will be shifted from the campus of Darbhanga Medical College and Hospital (DMCH). Though he didn't disclose about new location of the AIIMS-Darbhanga, some local people said it will be shifted to the premises of Ashok Paper Mills at Hayaghat on the outskirts of the town. Some people, however, attributed the reason to growing differences between the state and the centre after Nitish snapped ties with BJP and formed the grand alliance government with the support of RJD and other allies.

Sukhu clears old pension scheme in 1st cabinet meet

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

THE Himachal Pradesh Cabinet headed by Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu in its first meeting on Friday decided to provide Old Pension Scheme (OPS) to all the state government employees who are currently covered under the defined contributory pension scheme, also referred to as New Pension Scheme (NPS).

The government decision will benefit about 1.36 lakh NPS employees in the state. The Congress had made a poll promise to restore OPS. With this, Himachal becomes the third Congress-ruled state to restore OPS after Rajasthan and Chhattisgarh. The Sukhu-led cabinet also decided to adopt the party's election manifesto as the policy document of the government. All ministers, secretaries and heads of departments will implement it fully.

After the cabinet meeting, Sukhu said the OPS issue has been studied deeply as the officers from finance department had expressed reservations about it. "The issue has been settled and all the employees currently under the NPS will be covered under the OPS," he said "We had promised to implement the OPS in the first cabinet meeting and we have done it. A notification will be issued soon," he said.

The cabinet also decided to form a cabinet sub-committee to finalize a roadmap for implementation of the promises made by the Congress during the elections for creating one lakh employment opportunities in the state.

Plan to police NGOs out of FCRA radar

AMIT MUKHERJEE @ New Delhi

AFTER putting the screws on NGOs that receive foreign funds, the government is looking to police those that are out of that bracket by setting up a statutory body to keep tabs on them.

A proposal to set up a body headed by a charity commissioner is under consideration to deal with "deviations observed in the activities by many NGOs — which in many cases have been activities against the interest of India," sources said.

"It is important to monitor them since in many cases the deviations do not break any law which invites charges under the penal code, but the violations are largely procedural, thus authorities need to be more vigilant," they added. From conducting illegal biotech-related research to spoiling India's image abroad and from disrupting development projects to funding radicalisation and conversions, various NGOs were found involved in dubious activities. An NGO representative said, "Under prevailing conditions all NGOs in India are adequately regulated."

PM launches Ganga Vilas from Kashi to Dibrugarh

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

WHILE flagging off the MV Ganga Vilas, the rivership for a 51-day voyage from Varanasi to Diburgarh through a video link on Friday, Prime Minister Narendra Modi called it a revolutionary step towards the evolution of waterway tourism in the country. He called the beginning of cruise service on river Ganga a landmark moment that would herald an era of new age of tourism in India.

The river ship MV Ganga Vilas is expected to reach its final destination — Dibrugarh in Assam — on March 1. Welcoming 33 foreign tourists, including 32 Swiss and a German, undertaking themaiden voyage of the cruise, the PM asked them to feel the essence and soul of India during the voyage. The travellers on board MV Ganga Vilas river ship will neither get non-vegetarian food nor liquor.

The tourists would only be served with a variety of Indian cuisine and assorted non-alcoholic drinks, said Raj Singh, founder and CEO of Antara Luxury River Cruises operating MV Ganga Vilas. The Tent City, which will woo the tourists with its high-end facilities, resembles the sand dunes of Jaisalmer and Rann of Kutch.

10 pilgrims heading to Shirdi killed in road accident

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

AS many as 10 people, including two children and driver of the bus, were killed and over 30 injured in the private bus and truck accident on Friday morning near Sinnar on the Nashik-Shirdi highway in Maharashtra. According to the eye witness, the bus driver, who was driving rashly, collided with a truck near Pathare village in Sinnar taluka of Nasik district. The passengers were going to Shidri. Most of the passengers in the bus were from Mumbai and its extended suburbs.

The 30 injured passengers had been admitted to the Nashik district hospital. The State Government has announced to bear the medical expenses of these injured passengers.

Maharashtra CM Eknath Shinde expressed grief over the loss of lives in the bus accident on the Nashik-Shirdi highway. He also announced exgratia of ₹5 lakh each to the families of the deceased.

NIA will probe Rajouri twin attacks, says Shah

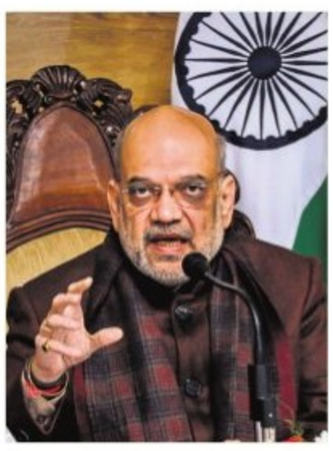
FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) and Jammu police will jointly investigate the recent twin militant attacks in Rajouri village in which seven civilians were killed, Home Minister Amit Shah said on Friday, adding that the attack will be avenged and perpetrators brought before the court of law and dealt severe punishment.

He also sought to reassure the people of a secure atmosphere with a new action plan by establishing a 360-degree security net for the Jammu region.

Shah arrived in Jammu to visit the family members of the seven civilians killed in the twin attacks on January 1 and 2. However, he could not visit the area due to inclement weather. Later, he reached out to the families on the phone.

"I talked to the families and heard their issues. All of them said the area belongs to them and they won't leave it. Their spirit is an example for the whole country," he told reporters in Jammu.



Shah also chaired a high-level meeting, attended by J&K Lt Governor Manoj Sinha along with top security and intelligence officials, to review the security situation in Jammu.

Meanwhile, the NIA has filed a chargesheet in a special court in Jammu against Lashkar-e-Taiba operative Sajjad Gul and five others in connection with the interception of a drone laden with magnetic bombs in Jammu and Kashmir's Kathua district in May year.

Kant says UP driving India's growth story

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

UTTAR Pradesh is catapulting into a key driver of India's economy and growth, former Niti Aayog CEO Amitabh Kant, the G20 Sherpa of India, said on Friday, while participating in a road show organised in Delhi by the state government to promote the Global Investors Summit taking place in Lucknow on February 10-12.

Saying that there is no better place for investment than Uttar Pradesh, Kant praised the UP government's efforts in bringing about sweeping changes to create a pro-business climate in the state. He added that if India has to grow at 9-10% per year to become one of the leading economies of the world, Uttar Pradesh would play a significant role in propelling the country towards achieving the target.

Among those participated in the road show were state Industry Minister Nand Gopal Gupta Nandi, Urban Development Minister AK Sharma, Minister of State for Basic Education Sandeep Singh, and senior bureaucrats such as Chief Secretary Durga Shankar Mishra, who projected the state as an ideal investment destination. The UP delegation signed MoUs of investment proposals worth 2.75 lakh crore during the Delhi road show.

While addressing the road show, Kant said today's UP promises predictability and consistency, ease of doing business, developed infrastructure and a good domestic market. With the rapid pace of urbanisation, upcoming international airport at Jewar and dedicated east and west freight corridors, UP would lead country's growth story soon, he stated. "If I were a businessman, there would be no better place for me to close my eyes and invest than Uttar Pradesh," Kant said.

Additional Chief Secretary, Uttar Pradesh, Manoj Kumar Singh invited big business houses to participate in the Global Investors Summit. Prominent among those who took part in the road show in Delhi included CII Director General Chandrajeet Banerjee,

'IB had no authority to quiz Nambi'

SREEKUMAR, then deputy director of IB in Thiruvananthapuram played an active role in the wrongful detention of the victims. IB had no authority to interrogate Nambi Narayanan when he was in police custody. Hence, it is an unauthorised interrogation without court's permission. Narayanan and another ex-ISRO scientist Sasikumaran were pressurised and even tortured by investigators to falsely implicate Muthunayagam, then director of ISRO's Liquid Propulsion Systems Centre (LPSC), the ASG said.

Although custody was given to Kerala police, the investigation was virtually hijacked by the IB. "The cryogenic engine technology was denied to us because of the Pokhran nuclear test. If the technology were handed over to us, we would have been faster in engine development. The development was managed by then scientists, including Narayanan," the ASG said.

Junta bombed Indian territory in Mizoram

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

A day after a youth organisation in Mizoram claimed that a Myanmar military fighter jet had shelled Indian territory, neither the state government nor the Indian security forces have confirmed it. The purported bombing is said to have taken place on Thursday during an aerial attack by Myanmar on a camp of the Chin National Front (CNF), an ethnic insurgent group in the country.

However, an unnamed senior Assam Rifles official told news agency PTI that no explosions occurred on the Indian side. The Young Mizo Association Tuipuiral Group had said on Thursday that Myanmar jets dropped bombs targeting the CNF's headquarters, Camp Victoria, at around 3:30 pm on January 10.

"A bomb had not just hit Indian soil but also partly damaged an Indian vehicle which was near the Tiau river – the international boundary," the organisation said.

"The YMA, Tuipuiral Group strongly condemns the military jet fighters disrespectfully flying over the Indian side... several times for the past two months, and then dropping bombs on the Indian soil," the statement further said. It added that panic had set in among people living along the international border, and that the Myanmar military had carried out another aerial strike on January 11.

It also urged the government of India take proactive action to stop the jets from flying over Indian airspace. According to reports, five members of the CNF were killed in the bombings in Myanmar.

Mizoram shares a 510-km border with the neighbouring country. The Chin people residing in Myanmar's Chin State along the Mizoram border and the Mizos in India belong to the greater Zo community, and share the same culture and ancestry.

During 2022, China's imports from India fell to $17.48 billion, witnessing a YoY fall of 37.9%, data revealed. Speaking of 2021, the overall trade with China amounted to $125.62 billion, up 43.32% from the previous year, crossing $100 billion mark for the first time. Trade deficit in 2021 stood at $69.56 billion as India's imports from China registered a growth of 46.14% to touch $97.59 billion. Also, India's exports to China grew 34.28% year-on-year to reach $28.03 billion in 2021. From 2015 to 2021, India-China trade rose 75.30%, an average yearly growth of 12.55%.

'Our trade deficit concerns are two-pronged. One is actual size of the deficit. Two is the fact that the imbalance has continuously been widening year after year,' an official brief on trade posted on the Indian Embassy website in Beijing said. 'Growth of trade deficit with China could be attributed to two factors – narrow basket of commodities, mostly primary, that we export to China and second, market access impediments for most of our agri products and the sectors where we are competitive such as pharma, IT/ITES,' it added. Economists and trade experts say rising imports could be due to revival of domestic manufacturing. Chief Economist at a major Financial Services company told this newspaper a large part of the import growth is being driven by rise in chemicals, engineering equipment including electrical & non electrical instruments. "These reflect rising demand from a reviving manufacturing sector in India," he says.

Trade economist Ritesh Kumar Singh says most of the imports from China help Indian businesses as they are intermediate goods. He says imports from China help India contain inflation. "Rising deficit with China remains a concern for our policy makers, but rather than getting into self-harming moves like boycotting Chinese goods or investment, we should see how we can benefit from Chinese goods in becoming cost-competitive and pushing valued-added exports," he added.

Wipro net up 3%; meets street estimates

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

AMID a seasonally weak quarter for the IT sector, Wipro managed to meet Street estimates and posted a 2.8% year-on-year (YoY) increase in its consolidated net profit at ₹3,053 crore in the December quarter, compared to ₹2,969 crore in the same quarter last year.

The company's consolidated revenues for the third quarter were up 14.3% at ₹23,229 crore compared to ₹20,314 crore in the same quarter last fiscal.

Thierry Delaporte, CEO and managing director of Wipro, said the macro-economic uncertainty continues but tech spending remains robust.

"Our clients are looking for value-driven transformation, tighter governance, and improved return on investments. Cloud transformation continues to be a priority, even as we see a higher focus on returns," he said. He added that the spend in the retail sector, particularly in America, might see a potential slowdown. Taking about Q4, he said, "There is certainly a little bit of a lag, a certain level of volatility from customers particularly in some sectors regarding discretionary spending, and there is a certain level of uncertainty clearly balanced by the volume of business that we win," Delaporte said, adding that there is no slowdown in decision process.

Wipro's operating margins stood at 16.3%, which is an expansion of 120 basis points from the last quarter.

"This expansion of margins was after absorbing the investments we made in our people by way of salary increases, promotions and long-term incentives for our senior leadership. We generated strong operating cash flows at 143% of our net income for the quarter and our EPS increased by 14.6% quarter-on-quarter," said Jatin Dalal, chief financial officer, Wipro.

Wipro signed 11 large deals of over $1 billion in Q3: Thierry Delaporte

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

WIPRO'S total bookings rose 26% year-on-year (YoY) to over $4.3 billion in December quarter. This was led by solid large deal signings of over $1 billion.

Thierry Delaporte, CEO and MD of Wipro, said, "We are now going for large deals and we are consistently winning large deals quarter after quarter."

He added that on a YoY basis, the company's bookings in total contract value terms grew 26% in Q3. "We signed 11 large deals, with a total contract value of over a billion dollars. This strong booking trajectory translates into a 50% YoY growth in our large deal bookings, on a year-to-date basis. Our pipeline of large deals is both strong, and diversified," he added.

"Our large deals include new and existing clients seeking a transformation partner, or going through vendor consolidation," he added.

In a bid to win large deals, in February 2021, Wipro created a new function - the chief growth office - to help the company win large deals, and it appointed Stephanie Trautman as the chief growth officer.

Speaking at the Q3 earnings conference, Trautman said the firm has built a large deal team and they are seeing the results. "We are expanding team and seeing a lot of opportunity in the marketplace. Q4 pipeline is quite strong. This quarter we won large deals in each one of our markets," she said. Wipro's attrition rate moderated to 21.2% and its headcount reduced by 435 employees during the quarter. It has promoted 6,000 employees and added 3,000 freshers. It plans to hire 5,000 freshers in the current quarter.

NCLT clears transfer of Jet ownership to Jalan-Kalrock

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN a major win for the successful bidders of grounded airline Jet Airways, the Mumbai bench of the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) on Friday approved transfer of ownership of the to Jalan Kalrock consortium (JKC) and gave it more time to pay dues to the creditors.

The two sides -- JKC and creditors -- are having an ongoing dispute over the transfer of ownership of the airline on grounds of not meeting the agreed terms passed in the cleared resolution plan.

A two-member bench of Pradeep Narhari Deshmukh and Shyam Babu Gautam noted the effective date of the resolution plan has been taken as November 16, JKC will get six months from the said date to make the payments to the lenders.

The consortium will now have time till mid-May 2023 to make the payments to all the creditors, including workmen and employees.

Counsel for the lenders had sought a two-week stay on the order, but the plea was rejected by the tribunal.

So far, the JKC has deposited bank guarantees worth ₹150 crore with the lenders.

As per the resolution plan, it has to make payments of ₹185 crore to creditors within 180 days from the effective date.

"The NCLT has ordered transfer of ownership of Jet Airways to JKC in compliance with the resolution plan the tribunal previously approved. We await the detailed judgment that follows this order to provide further details, if any, on the matter.... look forward to bringing back joy back to the skies," said JKC in a statement on Friday.

JAPAN

YIELDS BREAK CENTRAL BANK CEILING

The yield on Japan's benchmark 10-year government bonds breached the central bank's new ceiling on Friday in the market's most direct challenge yet to decades of uber-easy monetary policy, before a wave of emergency bond buying reined it back in. Swirling speculation that the Bank of Japan's policy of yield curve control (YCC) could be revised, or even abandoned, as early as next week had investors rushing for the exits. That catapulted 10-year Japanese government bond yields as much as 4 basis points higher to 0.54%, the highest since mid-2015 and above a recently widened band of -0.5% to +0.5% set by the BOJ in a shock decision just three weeks ago. The stress was evident across the yield curve, forcing the BOJ to announce two separate rounds of emergency buying worth around 1.8 trillion yen ($13.9 billion) combined. The central bank already holds 80% to 90% of some bond lines. That went some way to restoring calm, and the 10-year yield gradually eased back. The BOJ is an outlier in clinging to stimulus while most central banks globally are deep into rate-hiking campaigns.

NEPAL

INFLATION EASES TO 7.38% AS FOOD, BEVERAGE PRICES DIP

Nepal's inflation eased to 7.38% in the month to mid-December, the lowest in about eight months, as prices of food and beverages dipped, official data showed on Friday. Prime Minister Pushpa Kamal Dahal has vowed to tame inflation, control rising interest rates and boost economic growth since taking office last month as the head of a seven-party coalition. Data from the Nepal Rastra Bank (NRB) showed overall inflation in the month to mid-December was lower than the previous month's 8.08% but higher than 7.11% in the same period a year earlier. Food and beverage inflation fell to 5.85% from 7.38% the previous month. Non-food and service inflation eased only slightly to 8.59% from 8.63% the previous month. Other NRB data showed remittances from about five million Nepalis working mainly in the Middle East, Malaysia and Korea jumped 13.1% to $3.71 billion. Nepal's economy, dependent on remittances, aid and tourism, saw its earnings from tourism jump 64.0% as of mid-December as tourists returned to the Himalayan nation, home to eight of the world's 14 highest mountains including Mount Everest.

INDONESIA

DEC TRADE SURPLUS SEEN AT $4.01 BN, LOWEST IN 7 MONTHS

Indonesia's trade surplus likely narrowed further in December, with moderating global commodity prices expected to result in a $4.01 billion surplus, the lowest in seven months, a Reuters poll showed on Friday. Indonesia enjoyed an export boom last year due to high global commodity prices, though prices of its top commodities have cooled in recent months alongside a global trade slowdown. The median forecast from 10 economists in a Reuters poll was for a $4.01 billion trade surplus in December, the smallest since May and compared with November's surplus of $5.16 billion. Exports are forecast to show growth of 6.65% annually last month, higher than November's 5.58% increase. Meanwhile, imports likely fell 7.58% on a yearly basis, the biggest drop since November 2020. Bank Permata economist Josua Pardede, who forecast a $4.17 billion surplus, said the value of oil and gas imports last month should show a fall due to lower global crude oil prices. The bank forecast a surplus of $54.8 billion for the January to December 2022 period, slowing to a range of $40 billion to $45 billion this year as commodity prices ease and trade slows.

Ethanol blending saved ₹41,500 cr in 8 yrs: Puri

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE ethanol blending in petrol has resulted in forex savings of over ₹41,500 crore in the past eight years for the country, said petroleum minister Hardeep Singh Puri on Friday.

The minister, speaking at Auto Expo 2023, said the blending has benefited over ₹40,600 crore payment made to the farmers.

"This has resulted not only augmenting India's energy security but also translated into a forex savings of over ₹41,500 crore, reduced greenhouse gas emissions of 27 lakh million tonnes and benefitted farmers with payment of over ₹40,600 crore made to the farmers," said Puri. The government has increased the ethanol blending in petrol from 1.53% in 2013-14 to 10.17% in 2022, which was well ahead of the November 2022 deadline and advanced its target to achieve 20% ethanol blending in petrol from 2030 to 2025-26. The minister also mentioned about the reduction in security deposit amount from 5% to 1%, extending a benefit of nearly ₹400 crore to ethanol suppliers for ease of doing business and reduction of the GST on bio-fuel from 18% to 5%.

"India is the front runner in mitigating climate change globally and is progressing fast on its energy transition agenda. Today's event marks the extent to which India is willing to innovate to keep its pledge of protecting environment while simultaneously addressing the growing demand for energy", added Puri.

The minister highlighted setting up five 2G ethanol bio-refineries in the country at Panipat (Parali) in Haryana, Bathinda in Punjab, Bargarh (Parali) in Odisha, Numaligarh (Bamboo) in Assam and Devangere in Karnataka. "We are launching a Global Alliance on Biofuels, along with USA and Brazil during India's Presidency of G20", he ended.

Oil & gas sector may see $58 bn investment in '23

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

PETROLEUM minister Hardeep Singh Puri on Friday said India is expecting an investment of nearly $58 billion in exploration and production of oil and gas by 2023.

Speaking at the Voice of Global South Summit, he further said the companies like Chevron, ExxonMobil, TotalEnergies are showing keen interest to invest in the Indian E&P sector.

"We are expecting an investment of nearly $58 bn in exploration and production (of oil and gas) by 2023," he said. "Several multinational corporations like Chevron, ExxonMobil, and TotalEnergies are showing keen interest to invest in the Indian E&P sector."

India is the world's third-biggest oil-consuming and importing nation and is looking to raise domestic output to help cut down reliance on costly imports. The country imports nearly 85% of its crude oil, which is converted into petrol and diesel, and roughly half of its natural gas that is converted to CNG and used in industries.

Sebi proposes allowing PE funds to become sponsor of mutual fund

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Mumbai

THE Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) on Friday proposed allowing private equity (PE) funds to sponsor a mutual fund house.

As per the regulator, PE funds can bring in strategic guidance and talent to fuel growth of the industry.

In its consultation paper, a Sebi-constituted working group proposed alternative set of eligibility criteria to enable PE funds, which don't qualify based on the current requirement, to act as sponsors of mutual funds (MFs) and suggested to strengthen the existing eligibility requirements to ensure that only high-quality entities qualify.

"The Working Group noted PE with significant capital can invest in technology, bring in strategic guidance and good talent to fuel growth and innovation and expand presence of MFs including driving inclusive growth," noted the paper.

"PE may provide constructive competition to the current entities in the industry and improve value to investors."

Hycross, Hyryder may drive Toyota sales in 2023

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

JAPANESE automaker Toyota (TKM) is very optimistic about the calendar year 2023 after witnessing robust sales in 2022.

The Innova Cryta and Fortuner maker had sold 160,357 units last year, marking the company's highest sales in last 10 years.

"Auto industry and India's economic outlook looks positive in 2023. We expected demand to remain robust. Add to it, our newly launched Innova Hycross and Hyryder has received an overwhelming response. They will definitely add to the total sales," Vikram Gulati, Toyota Kirloskar Motor's country head and senior vice-president of corporate affairs told this newspaper at the sidelines of Auto Expo 2023.

Toyota showcased several alternative fuel vehicles, including its first all-electric SUV – the bZ4X at the Expo. The company also showcased cars and SUVs that can run on hydrogen and ethanol. While Gulati didn't share the pending order of the two models that also come with strong hybrid options, dealerships informed that the two models have a waiting period of up to 6 months. "Right now our priority is to ramp up production and deliver them to consumers," said Gulati, adding that while supply chain issues still persist, the situation is much better now. He also said that as the supply situation is improving, the brand will soon recommence the booking of Innova Crysta diesel variant.

When asked if Innova Hycross would not cannibalise Innova Crysta as it provides a better fuel economy and is loaded with latest features, Gulati said the market is big enough to accommodate different power trains. Gulati noted TKM's aggressive push for strong hybrids is paving the path towards electrification and decarbonisation even as rival carmakers such as Tata Motors, Mahindra & Mahindra and Hyundai are having a slew of EV launches.

Gold prices hit all-time high of ₹56,245 on rising demand

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

STARTING the new year on a bullish note, gold prices surged to all-time high in the futures market.

MCX Gold futures rose to ₹56,245 per 10 gm on Friday, surpassing the previous record of ₹56,191 hit in August 2020. Rising prices indicate a strong run ahead for gold, believe experts. With a looming recession in developed economies, higher inflation, a falling dollar, and an uncertain geo-political situation, gold is expected to perform well in 2023.

In the overseas market, gold was trading in green at $ 1,898 per ounce while in the local market the yellow metal ended the day at ₹55,990, up 0.21%.

Global factors were the main factors behind the surge in gold prices. Decline in retail inflation in the US to 14-month low and the weakening of dollar helped the gold prices to shine.

According to data released by the Bureau of Labor Statistics on Thursday, US consumer prices declined to 6.5% in December from 7.1% in November, giving hope that US Fed's strategy of to tame inflation is working and the US Fed will also take a softer approach on rate hikes.

"Slowing inflation means less aggressive interest rate hikes by Fed. As per the CME Fed watch tool, the probability of a 25-bps hike in Feb FOMC meeting has gone up to 92.7 percent. This has supported gold prices to trade above the resistance of $1,884 which is the 8-month high," said Ravindra V Rao, VP-Head Commodity Research, Kotak Securities.

Weakening of dollar, fear of recession and geopolitical uncertainty may boost demand for dollar. Global economy is likely to go through a difficult time as it will face the aftermath of Russia's invasion of Ukraine, cost of living crisis and slowdown in major economies. Also, China's economic growth is likely to improve this year and which will fuel the demand for the yellow metal. Following the sharp rise in central bank demand for gold in third quarter of 2022, the outlook for official sector demand for yellow metal may also be resilient in 2023, say experts.

"Concerns over weaker global economic growth and geopolitical tensions will continue to make gold valuable as hedge against uncertainties. Global central banks purchased around 400 tonnes of gold in the third quarter of CY22 the largest single quarter of demand. Looking at the current situation, the central bank will continue to add gold to its reserves," said Pankaj Pandey, Head Research, ICICI Direct.

India put up efficient show against Spain to begin FIH World Cup campaign with emphatic 2-0 win, coach Graham Reid and players delighted with performance, local boy Rohidas and Hardik among goalscorers

VERY HAPPY RETURNS OF THE DAY

India's Hardik Singh scores and celebrates second goal against Spain at the World Cup in Rourkela on Friday | DEBADATTA MALLICK

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Rourkela

AS far as opening nights go, this was the perfect execution of plans coming to fruition. Couple of good goals? Check. An impudent piece of skill that will end up on various social media channels with jarring background music. Check. A complete team performance? Check. Clean sheet (India haven't had many of those in recent times)? Check. A sold out crowd experiencing high-end sport for the first time ever and going back home with smiles plastered on their faces. Check. The final scoreline was close by the sport's standards — 2-0 — but it was over as a contest long before the final hooter cut through the air. The performance was a masterclass in efficiency, taking opportunities and never relinquishing control after an iffy first couple of minutes.

By the time coach Graham Reid and captain Harmanpreet Singh were done with their post-match press obligations, both of them had big smiles on their faces. They were even in the mood to joke with the media. Harmanpreet was in such a relaxed state of mind he even mocked himself for missing a penalty stroke.

What pleased Reid the most was the defensive aspect of India's showing. "This is probably our best defensive effort since Tokyo," he said after the game. "We had good energy, tone and work-rate and those are three very important objectives for us."

That's true and it's not just because of the clean sheet. Spain are known for their flair, their dribblers like to tease the press before releasing runners. They also like pacy transitions. India cut out their oxygen at source and Spain never really recovered. Their coach Max Caldas admitted as much. "India deservedly won the game," he said. "We weren't at that standard." Speaking of standards, since Tokyo, India's standards have dipped slightly. Indiscipline has crept into the game and defenders haven't always covered themselves in glory. They course-corrected and that was the base for a morale-boosting three points before Wales on Saturday night.

Reid attributed the course-correction to a few things they had been working on in the camp. One of the big things they had worked on in Bengaluru was playing with 10 players rather than 11. While all teams do this as part of their process, when you repeatedly keep doing this over a long period of time, it helps the team in match situations. India did pick up a card against Spain but that indiscipline didn't cost them.

They also conceded a few penalty corners (three to be exact) but returned with a shutout thanks mainly to Krishan Pathak, the only player who returned without a medal from Tokyo among the touring party (he was an unused reserve player). While the Australian conceded that it was a 'bit brave' to keep the team's policy of rotating goalkeepers (some teams have a designated No. 1 while India have a policy of giving both keepers two quarters each) going, he was happy with the outcome.

"It's the way we have been playing," he said. "Both have been playing fantastically well. Both push each other. I like both of them to be live options because if something happens to one of them... it was a bit brave today but they are used to it. Lot of positives."

Apart from Pathak who pulled off a couple of really good saves in dead ball situations, the other big positive was the way the midfield controlled the game. With more than half the game gone, India had almost 80% of the ball. They had no trouble in keeping the ball and created multiple chances down Spain's left, especially in the first 30 minutes. It was no surprise they used this wing to build pressure and it told as they won the first penalty corner of the match after attacks down the right. From one of those corners, Amit Rohidas found the top corner after a goalbound Harmanpreet Singh effort was intercepted by a Spanish stick.

Fourteen minutes later, the hosts got the lead their play deserved. And it came via Hardik Singh, who has quietly grown into the role as a midfield lynchpin of the side. After receiving the ball in the left half-space, he drove at the Spanish defence. When they decided to engage him, he dodged his way out of traffic with relative ease. The skill brought out an audible gasp from the crowd. Inside the D, Hardik, who scored a similar goal at the Olympics, concentrated on squaring the ball rather than going for goal from a narrow angle. But his attempted pass was turned goalwards by a Spain stick. After the match, he admitted 'I had decided on passing the ball to the penalty spot'.

At 2-0, it was a matter of avoiding silly mistakes and not allowing the opposition a way into the encounter. While Spain did have some chances to halve the deficit in the fourth quarter, the Men In Blue remained solid and saw the game out.

Now, the challenge is to do it again in two nights' time.

Australia's Jeremy Hayward (left) scored a hat-trick against France as they began the campaign with an 8-0 victory on Friday | SHIBA PRASAD SAHU

CONTENDERS

Belgium

After going on a journey from also-rans to pretenders to bonafide contenders, they arrive in India with a lot of pedigree. Possibly the best amongst the European outfits. They have with them a highly skilled and experienced group of players who do not shy away from goal-setting. That's what has helped them with respect to motivation.

Australia

There is still some sort of intrigue with respect to the Kookaburras because they haven't played that many competitive games since the beginning of the pandemic. But whenever they have played, it's been appointment TV. They beat India 4-1 in a 5-match series and also comfortably won the gold at the CWG.

PICK OF THE LOT

Unlike in 2018 when there were no clear favourites, this World Cup sees two clear favourites and a bunch of teams in a rung or two below. As the event kicks off we take a look at the contenders and pretenders...

India

You never rule India out, especially in India. With some of the most passionate of supporters and a group of players who delivered a bronze in Tokyo in 2021, it won't be a surprise if they are in the running during the latter stages. Face a tough group stage where both Spain and England could cause them a few issues.

OUTSIDERS

Netherlands

Under new management, they are coming into the event as European and Pro League champions. You always know what you are going to get from them. Their technical profile is excellent and have the right balance between youth and experience. After a below par Olympics, they are right back in the mix.

Germany

There is genuine buzz about this German side. Belgium rate them very highly, especially because they score highly with respect to innovation. They have had a few below average tournaments so they have rung in the changes. Gonzalo Peillat, a goal-scoring machine from penalty corners, is now in their corner.

England

A good start to the ongoing Pro League campaign has further fuelled belief that this team can finally medal after four successive losses in the semifinals as well as in the 3rd-4th playoff. It's just the question of matching individual talent with minimising errors in the most inopportune of moments.

Panposh a hostel with difference, all set for big date with destiny

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Rourkela

IT'S 8.00 AM. There's roughly 11 hours to go before pushback for India's opening World Cup match against Spain. The fog has started to lift but the cold winter air is lingering. The city is on the verge of realising a life-long dream of witnessing a hockey World Cup in their backyard. Come 5.00 PM, the match between England and Wales will propel this mineral-rich, hockey-crazy city of roughly six lakh inhabitants into a select club of cities to have hosted a men's World Cup (14 if you are wondering).

But that can wait. At 8.00 AM, the region's finest hockey disciples are in a training session in one of the sport's most famous temples, Panposh Sports Hostel. Situated by the Koel River, one of the main water bodies in this part of the region, the hostel has left its mark on hockey royalty including the likes of Dilip Tirkey, the current Hockey India president. So, it's not a surprise to know why this hostel has a stature attached to it (many of India's World Cup and Olympics teams have had at least one player who have called this as an alma mater).

It explains why Samit Barwa, a teenager who's training at the hostel, says 'it was a dream of mine' to train here. One day, Barwa, who hails from Chhend, a neighbourhood in the city, hopes to wear an Indian jersey. On Friday, though, he has a different short-term goal. While Barwa is excited to watch the India vs Spain game from the Birsa Munda Stadium (all the 180 students were offered tickets for the match), his task is to take down notes from the game. "My coach has asked me to take a note and pen to jot down my observations so I will be doing that," he says, with a shyness that's hard to miss.

He truly comes alive when he's freestyling. He's known for lifting the ball -- a form of 3D skill -- and when he displays it in front of his teammates, you can see why he likes 'lifting the ball'. Apart from playing for the national team, he hopes to emulate idol Amit Rohidas (the current India vice-captain also came through this hostel), who enjoys a sort of cult personality in these parts. "He came from so little and look at him now. He's the man (for me)," Barwa, who's a midfielder, says.

Like some of the other parts of the city, the hostel too has got a fresh coat of paint. Two sparkling blue FIH-approved astroturfs were used for sessions for the first time on Monday -- a worn-down green astroturf was in business before it was replaced — to the delight of the trainees.

Jothikumari Toppo, another of the trainees at the hostel, says her dream is to emulate Vandana Katariya in featuring at the Olympics. "I like Vandana," the 22-year-old forward who has been to the junior India camp in Bengaluru, smiles.

"I want to ultimately play at the Olympics. But then for every Toppo and Barwa, there are others who may never even have the opportunity to realise their childhood sporting dreams. For every kid who currently calls this hostel home, there have been countless many who have fallen through because of a want of the required talent to keep performing at this level.

"There is a weeding process in place," Lazarus Barla, one of the coaches at the hostel, explains. "The ones who don't perform lose their place and those slots are taken by the players who come in and this cycle continues." Barla, a former India player and very much of this parish, beams with pride when the conversation shifts to the big event. "Didn't expect this, we are living a dream," he says.

Tale of missing WC gold from Baskaran's trophy cabinet

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

THE trophy cabinet at former hockey ace Vasudevan Baskaran's home in Chennai has the 1980 Moscow Olympics gold and the 1973 World Cup silver apart from numerous national and international laurels. It could also have been adorned with 1975 World Cup gold if the then 24-year-old Baskaran was not dropped from the Indian side at the eleventh hour.

"Being dropped from the side was disheartening. Any player would have felt it. In my case, the story was different. My family was backing me. Yes, I would love to have a WC gold in my gallery. I do have a silver medal but that gold is definitely missing from the cupboard. There is always a thought that it could have been very great but I moved on from there for the passion of hockey," Baskaran, who led India to their last Olympic gold, told this daily.

Elaborating it further, he said, "I was dropped at the last minute while someone from Punjab was picked. I even got my kit bag and everything there in Delhi before being dropped. Anyway, I was young then and couldn't have retaliated. I came back and played in the 1976 Montreal Olympics with almost the same squad. I went on to play till 1982. Regrets are there but not at the cost of my conscience."

72-year-old Baskaran, however, said it was his exclusion from the 1982 World Cup squad that hurt him more. The event was held in Mumbai, then called Bombay. "The 1975 episode was okay for me as the team had won but 1982 was definitely a heartbreak. The man who replaced me had not even played hockey after 1975. How can it be justified? In 1975, I was young and didn't have any problems but in 1982 I was the most senior player, I was outstanding in my position, outstanding in all departments. But here a man had replaced me who had last played seven years ago. I was there in the Bengaluru camp. There was a public agitation in Bengaluru after I was dropped and open letters were also sent to the then Prime Minister Indira Gandhi."

DOWN THE MEMORY LANE

Baskaran then switched to coaching and was given the reins of the junior team in due course of time. Under his coaching, the Indian team reached the final of the Junior World Cup in 1997 eventually losing to Australia. He also coached the senior team in two World Cups (1998 and 2006) apart from the 2000 Sydney Olympics when a last-minute equaliser by Poland prevented India from reaching the semifinals.

India's chances

Given his exploits as the coach, Baskaran strongly believes that India have a good chance at the World Cup. "India are in Pool D with England, Spain and Wales. All of them are good teams. The hosts should qualify but what matters is them topping the group. The first match against Spain will be crucial. Spain have a good defence and will not allow space to play. The quicker India settle down in the first quarter, the better it will be for them. We need a good and confident start," said Baskaran.

He also feels that this set of players are playing together for the past two-three, which will be an advantage for the team. "We have excellent midfielders like Vivek Sagar Prasad, Nilakanta Sharma, Surender Kumar and Manpreet Singh. Drag-flicker Harmanpreet Singh, who will also lead the side, is the team's strength."

SPIRIT OF SUNDARGARH

TANMAY DAS

FROM the days of organising the Khasi Cup, where winners are presented with a neutered male goat as trophy to hosting the global showpiece with the ultimate prize in hockey, Sundargarh has turned the tide. And how!

As the first match ball of the 15th FIH Men's Hockey World Cup rolled on the pulsating blue astro turf of the iconic Birsa Munda stadium in Rourkela, it not only placed the region — Odisha's cradle of hockey — on the pinnacle of glory but also unshackled the dreams and aspirations of an entire population.

Sundargarh has given India more than 50 international players, many making their mark at the top-most level from Olympics to World Cups. The frenzy over 'Hockey coming home' in the real sense was, as expected, insurmountable. The hockey's greats were equally ecstatic not just of the phenomenon ongoing, but more for what it means and the future it holds for this part of the country and state.

About eight Odisha hockey players, including former India captain and now Hockey India president Dilip Tirkey, have represented the nation in different World Cups. Dilip Tirkey played the most with three World Cups in 1998, 2002 and 2006. He was also the captain of the Indian team in 2006. While Lazarus Barla, Ignace Tirkey, Birendra Lakra and Amit Rohidas played in two World Cups, Ignace and Prabodh Tirkey are the only siblings from the state to play in the 2006 edition.

Peter Tirkey, however, was the first international player of Odisha to play in the Hockey Jr World Cup 1982 at Malaysia. He learnt the game and honed his skills on grass and dust fields in the back of the beyond where astro turf was even unheard of. "We did not know what astro turf was like, let alone playing on it. But things have changed in a breakneck pace over the last years. From development of infrastructure at the grassroots to the world class Birsa Munda stadium hosting the highest competition of the sport, this is a golden era for hockey in Sundargarh. It will inspire and help youngsters to play hockey and excel," he said.

Olympian Lazarus Barla who played in the 1998 and 2002 world cups said this is the fourth time India is hosting the World Cup, but the country has not won any medal as host nation. "I strongly believe that this time our team will make a podium finish. Organising such big-ticket events will definitely help development of international standard infrastructure in our state. The younger generation will get ample opportunities to make the best use of such facilities. The 17 blocks of Sundargarh have already been equipped with astro turfs which will help young boys and girls to learn hockey with modern facilities. Our present grassroots development support system will create many national and international standard players from the district," he said, exuding confidence.

His 2002 World Cup teammate Ignace Tirkey said the district has aptly been called the cradle of hockey for producing so many national and international men and women players. "The newly-constructed Birsa Munda Stadium has added another feather to Sundargarh's hockey heritage. The players as well as young and budding ones will now be exposed to world-class hockey, which will help them learn and experience the skills," he said.

His brother and teammate Prabodh added, "India is the only country to host back-to-back World Cups in our state. Such big events have a motivating impact. The development of facilities and getting to watch top quality competition will instill pride in youngsters and encourage them to aim to be the best and represent the country."

Member of the present Band of Blue and local boy Amit Rohitdas was most jubilant. "It is a great achievement of my life – to be playing in the World Cup and in front of my own people. We are going to start our campaign at one of the biggest hockey stadiums in the world. Rourkela is my hometown. I was an inmate of Panposh Sports Hostel here. This will be my first international match in my hometown. So it will be very very special for me to give my best here," said the 131 caps defender.

On course to make his World Cup debut in his native, 24-year-old defender Nilam Sanjeep Xess could not control his excitement. "I am fortunate enough to be able to play my first World Cup in my home city Rourkela. This is the place where I had started my hockey career. Today many of my friends and relatives along with my parents will be in the crowd to cheer for our team," he said.

'Olympic values education to make holistic development of sports'

FROM developing a new hockey stadium and World Cup village to giving a complete makeover to major cities and organising national and state level festivals, Odisha is celebrating hockey in a unique way during the World Cup 2023. Principal Secretary of Information and Public Relations department Sanjay Kumar Singh, in an interview with Hemant Kumar Rout, speaks about the marquee event.

Odisha is hosting the men's WC for the second consecutive time. Thoughts?

It is always a challenge to hold such international events. However, under the guidance of Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik, Odisha has gained a lot of experience in holding such international sporting events. The challenge this time has been manifold because of two venues. A new hockey stadium with world class facilities has been developed along with the World Cup village at Rourkela in a record time and the facilities in Kalinga Stadium have been enhanced. The state has taken due care for end to end requirements like play facilities, pitches, hospitality, transport and public engagement.

Several new aspects have been added this time to draw in more crowds, engage fans and also positively impress the visiting tourists. Efforts are being made to ensure that hockey lovers and tourists from all over the world are treated with good hospitality. The cities have been decked up to welcome visitors. For the first time, all Chief Ministers of the country have been invited to witness the event.

What are the public engagement programmes planned by the state government across the state during the WC?

Mega cultural events have been planned in four cities — Bhubaneswar, Rourkela, Berhampur and Sambalpur. Public engagement programmes like handloom and handicraft exhibition, competitions, food festivals and cultural extravaganza are being organised across the state. While national-level exhibition 'Sisira Saras' is open for visitors at Bhubaneswar from January 13 to 19, dot FEST at Bhubaneswar is from January 15 to 24 where citizens will celebrate the festival with music, street food of participating 16 countries along with a photo exhibition titled 'Sebbe O Ebbe' showcasing the evolution and history of Bhubaneswar city. City Fest at Rourkela is from January 14 to 22 and regional level exhibition 'Anchalika Saras' at Rourkela from January 15 to 27 apart from 'Pallishree Mela' and district festivals at 30 district headquarters.

The state government has roped in panchayats and urban local bodies to celebrate hockey. Why?

A special feature about this edition of World Cup is that the state has tried to take hockey to each and every village of Odisha. The objective is to connect the youth with hockey, which has a glorious past in Odisha. The government has made arrangements to telecast the matches through LED screens at GP and ULB level. Rural sports events are also being organised along with debate, essay, quiz, painting and other competitions among students on hockey themes and Odisha's contribution to the game.

What are the plans to promote some of the state's indigenous things like millet, handloom & handicraft?

Mascot of Odisha Millets Mission 'Milli' has been incorporated in the Indian Hockey Team jersey to promote both millets and hockey. Millet snacks have been added to the menu of players so that they can have a choice. Emphasis has been given to sell various food products from millet in food courts at cultural events such as dot Fest and others. Souvenirs for delegates have been prepared with a touch of the state's heritage. The festivals are also showcasing the rich culture through dance, music and exhibits.

The government is investing hugely in sports. How will it help the state?

Participation in sports brings diverse social groups together. It inculcates self-discipline, promotes a great sense of belongingness and fosters good citizenship in people. It is a matter of pride for the people of Odisha that the state has played a significant role in the revival of Indian hockey. From sponsoring the national teams to developing world class sports infrastructure, a lot of such measures have put Odisha in the world's sports map, which will ultimately benefit the tourism sector. Sports will motivate our youth towards a health-conscious and inspirational future. The Olympic values education programme started in 90 schools will make a significant contribution towards the holistic development of sports.

What are the steps taken to publicise the mega sporting event and government's massive infra development drive for sports?

Odisha is a happening state now. It is because of the ability of the state that an international organisation like FIH decided to give the opportunity of hosting the World Cup for the second time in a row. It speaks volumes about the leadership and capability of the state. The department has hired dedicated teams which are working in tandem with the government to position our sporting ecosystem on national and international level and increase visibility of our great endeavour.

'Bully-off', hockey with bamboo sticks: Odisha's 1st national-level umpire's tales from past

DIANA SAHU @ Cuttack

HAVING dedicated almost six decades of his life to playing and developing hockey, Cuttack's Prabhat Kumar Mishra feels the sport has undergone a sea change now.

"It was a lot different when we played. The game has become so fast now," feels 87-year-old Mishra, who is synonymous with hockey in Odisha and Cuttack in particular. A veteran hockey player and first national-level hockey umpire from Odisha (in the 70s), Mishra started playing hockey during his Ranihat high school days and after joining the then Ravenshaw college (now university) in 1951, he played for Utkal University the same year. Captain of the university hockey team then, he played at university-level for three years before playing for the state team. "When we played hockey, it was normal field hockey and the rules were very different from what it is today. When European countries started changing hockey rules in the 70s, our Asian representative who was from Pakistan never bothered. They changed everything in the game for their own advantage because the Indian hockey that Dhyan Chand and his brother Roop Singh played was a sure shot to success," he recalls.

So, while there was an end to the 'bully-off' at start, penalty stroke was reduced from 8 yards to 7 yards, hit-in was allowed from sidelines, among other things. "In the days when I was umpiring, bully-off was a beautiful technique and Indian players were masters in it. So Europeans changed it," says Mishra who is also a former principal of Ravenshaw college.

PRABHAT MISHRA

Recalling his association with Dhyan Chand, he says although he is regarded as a legendary hockey player, his artistry was mostly due to his brother Roop. Mishra also remembers going to Sundargarh district with the then president of Orissa hockey association Amar Roy of Cuttack to scout for hockey talent and brought many of them to Bhubaneswar.

"We were amazed to see so many people playing hockey there with bamboo sticks. Later on, we noticed that hockey was played only in that part of Odisha, Jharkhand and Madhya Pradesh and after many deliberations, we concluded that the sport might have been introduced there by the German Christian preachers," says Mishra.

He says hockey can prosper like cricket if the players are incentivised and provided all facilities and grounds to play. The sportsman, who is a former secretary of Odisha Sports Council and instrumental during the initial days of construction of Kalinga stadium, has a word of suggestion for the Odisha government. If Odisha wants to promote hockey, it should look at identifying talents from schools and colleges and grooming them in the sport, he says.

"Since the government is now promoting hockey at a massive level, it should focus on identifying the talents from all parts of the state and provide them facilities to grow as hockey champions," says Mishra, sitting in a room full of awards that he got over the years for his contribution to not just hockey but other sports too.

SOLEDAR WRESTED, CLAIMS KREMLIN, KYIV DENIES IT

KYIV

RUSSIA claimed on Friday that its forces captured a fiercely contested salt mining town, in what would mark a rare victory for the Kremlin after a series of setbacks in its war in Ukraine. Ukrainian authorities said the fight for Soledar continued.

There have repeatedly been conflicting reports over who controls Soledar, where a bloody battle has raged for months. AP could not independently confirm either side's claim. "The liberation of the town of Soledar was completed in the evening of January 12," Lt. Gen. Igor Konashenkov, the Russian Defense Ministry's spokesman, said, adding that the development was "important for the continuation of offensive operations in the Donetsk region."

Taking control of the town would allow Russian forces "to cut supply lines for the Ukrainian forces" in Bakhmut and then "block and encircle the Ukrainian units there," Konashenkov said.

But Serhii Cherevaty, a spokesman for the Ukrainian army in the east, denied the Russian Defense Ministry's claim, telling the AP that "there are still Ukrainian units in Soledar."

Also, the Institute for the Study of War, a think tank in Washington, observed that the fall of Soledar wouldn't mark "an operationally significant development and is unlikely to presage an imminent Russian encirclement of Bakhmut."

The institute said that Russian information operations have "overexaggerated the importance of Soledar," a small settlement, arguing as well that the long and difficult battle has contributed to the exhaustion of Russian forces.

White House National Security Council spokesman John Kirby on Thursday also downplayed the significance of potential Russian gains in the area.

"Even if both Bakhmut and Soledar fall to the Russians ... it's not going to have a strategic impact on the war itself," Kirby said. "And it certainly isn't going to stop the Ukrainians or slow them down in terms of their efforts to regain their territory."

Meanwhile, the speaker of State Duma or the lower house of the Russian parliament, Vyacheslav Volodin, on Friday, proposed confiscating the property of critics who move abroad and speak out against Russia's assault on Ukraine. Agencies

SUSPECT CHARGED WITH MURDER IN ASSASSINATION OF JAPAN'S EX-PM ABE

TOKYO

JAPANESE prosecutors formally charged the suspect in the assassination of former PM Shinzo Abe with murder, sending him to stand trial, a court said on Friday.

Tetsuya Yamagami was arrested immediately after allegedly shooting Abe with a homemade gun as the former leader was making a campaign speech in July outside a train station in Nara in western Japan. Yamagami was also charged with violating a gun control law, according to the Nara District Court.

Police have said Yamagami told them that he killed Abe, one of Japan's most influential and divisive politicians, because of Abe's apparent links to a religious group that he hated.

One of his lawyers, Masaaki Furukawa, told AP on Thursday that Yamagami will have to take responsibility for the serious consequences of his alleged actions and that his defense lawyers will do their best to reduce his sentence.

Tetsuya Yamagami, the alleged assassin of Japan's former PM Shinzo Abe, enters a police station in Nara, western Japan on January 10 | AP

No date is set for the trial, which is expected to have a panel of civil jurors in addition to the usual bench judges, as is typical in murder cases and other serious criminal trials in Japan.

There are no pretrial hearings in Japan and defendants generally undergo trials.

Due to the complexity of the case, it will take months before his trial begins, Furukawa said.

Police are also reportedly considering adding several other allegations, including producing weapons, violating the explosives control law and causing damage to buildings.

Some Japanese have expressed sympathy for Yamagami, especially those who also suffered as children of followers of the South Korea-based Unification Church, which is known for pressuring adherents into making big donations and is considered a cult in Japan.

Thousands of people have signed a petition requesting leniency for Yamagami, and others have sent care packages to his relatives or the detention centre. AP

Lanka plans big-ticket downsizing of army

COLOMBO

BANKRUPT Sri Lanka will drastically slash its military, the defence ministry said on Friday, as the government works to overhaul its shambolic finances after an unprecedented economic crisis.

President Ranil Wickremesinghe has hiked taxes and imposed harsh spending cuts to smooth the passage of an expected International Monetary Fund bailout following a government debt default. Sri Lanka's armed forces are next on the chopping block, with the defence ministry announcing it would retire 65,000 soldiers from its 200,783 strong army over the year. The cuts make up the lion's share of plans to downsize Sri Lanka's land forces to 100,000 by the end of the decade.

"The overall aim of the strategic blueprint is to broach a technically and tactically sound and well-balanced defence force by the year 2030 in order to meet upcoming security challenges," the statement quoting the state minister of defence Pramitha Bandara Tennakoon said. Defence accounted for nearly 10% of public spending last year, and according to expert analysts, pay for security force personnel makes up half the government's salary bill.

The defence allocation of 539 billion rupees in the budget 2023 drew criticism as the island nation faced its worst economic crisis since 1948. Due to the forex shortage, Sri Lanka was unable to afford key imports, including fuel, fertilisers and medicines, leading to serpentine queues.

For health and education, the 2023 budget has allocated over 300 billion rupees each. Sri Lanka's armed forces remain bloated more than a decade after the end of the country's traumatic ethnic civil war. 400,000 people served in military at its peak strength in 2009. Agencies

Lisa Marie Presley, singer and daughter of Elvis, dies at 54

LOS ANGELES

LISA Marie Presley, the only child of Elvis Presley and a singer-songwriter dedicated to her father's legacy, died on Thursday after being hospitalised for a medical emergency. She was 54.

Her death in a Los Angeles hospital was confirmed by her mother, Priscilla, a few hours after her daughter was rushed to the hospital by paramedics after a medical episode at her home.

"It is with a heavy heart that I must share the devastating news that my beautiful daughter Lisa Marie has left us," Priscilla Presley said. "She was the most passionate, strong and loving woman I have ever known."

Lisa Marie Presley (February 1, 1968 – January 12, 2023) | AP

Presley shared her father's brooding charisma—the hooded eyes, the insolent smile, the low, sultry voice—and followed him professionally, releasing her own rock albums in the 2000s, and appearing on stage with Pat Benatar and Richard Hawley among others.

She even formed direct musical ties with her father, joining her voice to such Elvis recordings as 'In the Ghetto' and 'Don't Cry Daddy,' a mournful ballad which had reminded him of the early death of his mother (and Lisa Marie's grandmother), Gladys Presley.

"It's been all my life," she told The Associated Press in 2012, speaking of her father's influence. "It's not something that I now listen to and it's different. Although I might listen closer. I remain consistent on the fact that I've always been an admirer. He's always influenced me." She was at the Golden Globes on Tuesday, on hand to celebrate Austin Butler's award for playing her father. Just days before, she was in Memphis at Graceland—the mansion where Elvis lived—on January 8 to celebrate her father's birth anniversary. Lisa Marie became involved in numerous humanitarian causes, from anti-poverty programmes to relief efforts after Hurricane Katrina. AP

Trump's firm fined $1.6 mn, will appeal

NEW YORK : Donald Trump's company was fined $1.6 million on Friday as punishment for a scheme in which the ex-president's top executives dodged personal income taxes on job perks—a symbolic, hardly crippling blow. A fine was the only penalty a judge could impose on the Trump Organization for its conviction last month for 17 tax crimes, including conspiracy and falsifying business records. The amount imposed by Judge Juan Manuel Merchan was the maximum allowed by law, an amount equal to double the taxes a small group of executives avoided on benefits including rent-free apartments in Trump buildings, luxury cars and private school tuition.

DAY'S DIARY

Protests held

On this day in 1989, thousands of protesters gathered in Bradford, UK to burn a copy of Salman Rushdie's The Satanic Verses

THE CONTROVERSY

Upon publishing, The Satanic Verses instantly became the subject of heated controversy. India became the first country to ban the novel

FATWA ORDER

On February 14, 1989, Ayatollah Khomeini issued a fatwa — a formal edict on a matter of Islamic law — calling for the death of Rushdie

THE AUTHOR'S REMARKS

Rushdie denied that the book was blasphemous against Islam, but issued a statement recognising that many Muslims were distressed by the novel

HARVESTING HOPE

With Makar Sankranti on Jan 15 marking the end of winter and a start of something new, celebs share their plans with Tunir Biswas for the festival and the importance it holds for them

Samyukta Hornad, actor

This year is doubly special as my cousin's wedding falls on the day of Makar Sankranti. So, I will be largely pre-occupied at the marriage ceremony. But like every year, to keep the spirit of the festival alive, I will be giving jaggery and rice to as many cows as possible.

Radhika Narayan, actor

I will be spending some quality time with my family. My father will do the puja, mum will be making the delicacies and I will be around to help both of them whenever they will need me. Outside of the regular things you do to feel the fervour of a festival like donning new attires, this time I thought to do something else as well. I will plant a sapling on the day of Sankranti. I usually plant them on my birthday but I decided to do it on this festival as well. It is a good habit to have I feel. Moreover, I shot for Sankranthi Thaka Thai, which features actors from both the Kannada and Telugu film industry.

Sathish Ninasam, actor, producer, singer

Growing up in my hometown in Mandya, I have always looked forward to Sankranti as this festival is a huge annual event there. I used to actively participate in decorating our house and then accessorising the cows and the bulls. I didn't think much about why we had to do all of it but it was always fun. We also took our bulls over the bonfire for both the spiritual and the scientific reasons. This year, however, I am shooting for Ashoka Blade, but I will take some time out to visit my hometown as my family will be celebrating it like they do every year.

Sapthami Gowda, actor

While there has been an annual tradition of celebrating Makar Sankranti in my family, this time I won't be able to be part of it as I will be shooting for a film. This was the case last year as well when I was shooting for Kantara. So, I will be celebrating it on the sets this year as well. But this festival is important in our home. We do all the puja proceedings diligently, go to other houses and distribute ellu-bella. I remember in my growing years, my mother used to dress me in the traditional attire, back then it was a langa-blouse but now as an adult, it is a saree. Anyway, we used to go to all the neighbouring houses, some 30 of them spreading the joy of Sankranti.

Ramesh Aravind, actor-director

The idea for Sankranti Thaka Thai germinated when a friend of mine from the UK, who runs the Kannada Sangha there, introduced me to a singer named Lakshmi Hoysal. She had done an audio recording of the song with Anoop Menon, and approached me to be a part of the music video for it. They had said that while there are a lot of songs for other prominent festivals like Deepavali, there are very few Sankranti songs in Kannada. I liked the idea of a Kannada song specifically revolving around Sankranti and after my first listen, I found the tune to be quite catchy. Then I learned that Anee Master would be choreographing the dance for the video as well. They sent me some visuals and I decided to be a part of it. It was fun and was so nice to meet all the actors from the Kannada and Telugu film industries.

Dark chocolate with sesame seeds and jaggery, strawberry and coconut ladoo, mango-jaggery drinks...With Sankranti and Pongal almost here, artisanal brands are putting a spin on traditional items

Festive Flavours

DESE GOWDA

IT'S that time of the year again, when farmers around the country prepare to offer thanks to nature and celebrate a bountiful harvest. It is customary to offer ellu-bella (sesame-jaggery) to family and friends and eat dishes made from seasonal ingredients. As the city prepares to welcome the twin harvest festivals of Sankranti-Pongal, several brands have put on a spin to traditions, offering a variety of unique dishes and items to convey the spirit of the festival.

Artisanal chocolate brand Anuttama, whose Spicy Tang dark chocolate bar was awarded the bronze medal at the 2021-22 Asia-Pacific International Chocolate Awards, has come out with a special chocolate bar for Sankranti. The limited-edition Nutty Sesame is made from roasted white and black sesame, coconut mylk, 50 percent cocoa and jaggery. "We always use jaggery as the primary sweetener in our products. Most of which are dark chocolate, sweetened to varying degrees with jaggery, coconut sugar and dates," says PS Balasubrahmanya, co-founder, Anuttama. "The cocoa is sourced from our family-owned farm in Puttur in Dakshina Kannada district and a few other local farms," he says.

WELL into the first week of the New Year, things seem to be getting back into the same old rut. I noticed now that even the perfunctory New Year greetings have stopped. In a way it's good. I really don't know how to respond, except in the same inauthentic format. Hoping this year will bring peace, joy and financial stability is an outright myth and we know it. We shall reap what we sow and last year's crop wasn't all that good! But really, in the grand scheme of things, does it really matter?

I always say that when friends make the effort to meet up even for a quick 'cuppa-chai', it requires effort and skill in time management! We all seem to be so inordinately busy; not only with work but with family commitments and that precision coordination is needed to make it happen. So when a handful of us made an impromptu program to have 'brekkie' at the newly opened, swanky, Smoor Chocolate outlet, getting our act together at 10.45 in the morning was quite tricky. Nevertheless the excitement of meeting each other and drinking their sinful hot-chocolate galvanised us into action. In between mouthfuls of pancakes, fresh juices, made to order eggs and other sinful and unlimited assortment of viands, we spent a glorious couple of hours. There is something so wonderfully decadent to spend time chatting and eating on a working day! We were joined by my friend Kanchan Achpal, the CMO of Smoor Chocolates and the table became more raucous with all of us reminiscing about the past. The weather was beautiful; we were surrounded with bonhomie and a fabulous repast, and I looked around the table of women achievers and felt elated and proud to be one amongst them. I must learn to be more grateful for the many blessings.

Perhaps my dour mood was a direct result of my little munchkin going back home to Mumbai with my daughter and son-in-law. I missed the perennially barking Bobo too. But all these joys are momentous and transitory. When one is lucky to have them for some time, grab that moment with both hands. I have had many discussions regarding the intrinsic nature of humans to feel sad and focus on 'what's missing'. We don't have bestsellers that read 'Ten easy steps to be unhappy', because we know how to be that. But, learning to be happy? Ah! Now there's an art-form!

Determined to tap into my happy space, I met up with another group of friends for a 'dimsum dhamaka' at Zen, Leela Palace. We were a great bunch of ladies, all successful entrepreneurs and artistes. These ladies lend 'gravitas' (my friend Madhu Natraj's favourite word) to any situation. They have seen it all, the highs and the lows, and yet come out shining. These strong individuals wear both their commitments and the responsibility of work and family so effortlessly. Their common denominator is a strong sense of duty and compassion. I would definitely want one of them on my side if I ever needed help!

This year I plan to face the sun more, write that long 'put on hold' book, be grateful more and travel with the wind in my hair and a song on my lips.

FESTIVE FLAVOURS

WE process the cocoa beans by ourselves as well. We don't use any artificial ingredients or preservatives like butter extracts, vegetable oils or palm oils in our products. It's purely artisanal, made with little-to-no automated input," says Balasubrahmanya.

While Anuttama has turned the traditional mix of sesame and jaggery to offer a unique item that still preserves the spirit of the tradition, another brand from the city, Fiori Artisanal has gone a step further. "We are doing a small pickup menu inspired by items that you'd eat during the harvest festivals, be it Pongal, Sankranti or Lohri. These items have some elements of jaggery, makhana and such. One of the special items we are offering is the strawberry and coconut ladoo. The strawberries come from farms near Nandi Hills, while the coconuts are sourced from the coastal regions. We hope it highlights the soil of Karnataka and spirit of Sankranti," says Anushka Srivastava, founder of Fiori Artisanal.

Srivastava describes Fiori as an 'eco-conscious, experimental dessert kitchen' that creates delicious items from purely natural ingredients. "We want to be less cumbersome on the environment. So, we refrain from using any sort of artificial flavours or colours. Everything is done by hand," she adds.

Meanwhile, Oota Bengaluru is bringing out a special Sankranti-themed menu, with a variety of seasonal dishes, avarekalu vada, avarekalu gojju, badanekayi bajji and mavinakayi jaggery panaka. Mandaar Sukhtankar, corporate chef at the traditional Karnataka themed-restaurant, says, "It's the avarekalu season, and mango harvests have just started, so we are offering these dishes to keep the seasonal and harvest theme going," shares Sukhtankar.

KANTARA-FAME
SAPTHAMI GOWDA TO DEBUT IN HINDI WITH THE VACCINE WAR

A SHARADHAA

Sapthami Gowda talks about her big Bollywood debut with Vivek Agnihotri's The Vaccine War, which will be released in multiple languages

SAPTHAMI Gowda, who became a household name after the phenomenal success of Rishab Shetty's Kantara has got her big Bollywood break. Sapthami is set to make her B-Town debut with director Vivek Agnihotri's upcoming film, The Vaccine War. Bankrolled by Pallavi Joshi, who is also playing a pivotal role in The Vaccine War, the film features Anupam Kher, Nana Patekar, and Divya Seth among others. Confirming this casting update, Vivek says, "Sapthami is onboard The Vaccine War. We have finished the Lucknow schedule, and Sapthami will join the team in the Hyderabad schedule, which will start in a couple of days."

When asked about the casting choice, The Kashmir Files filmmaker says, "I saw Kantara, and liked her performance as Leela. I so wanted to have her part of my film, and when I called Sapthami, she graciously agreed to do the role. I'm very happy about her joining the team of The Vaccine War." Vivek also goes on to say that he wants to break the North-South divide. "I'm making an Indian film, and we wanted to bring the right cast and work with good actors irrespective of where they come from."

The Vaccine War will be released on August 15 this year in 11 languages including Hindi, English, Gujarati, Punjabi, Bhojpuri, Bengali, Marathi, Telugu, Tamil, Kannada, Urdu, and Assamese.

'I'm happy to be launched in a film with stalwarts of Indian cinema'

CE FEATURES

POST the super success of Kantara, Sapthami Gowda, who played Leela in the Rishab Shetty directorial, is set to make her big Bollywood debut. The actor will star in Vivek Agnihotri's The Vaccine War.

Talking about working in The Kashmir Files filmmaker's next, Sapthami says, "Firstly, we know how big The Kashmir Files did. I'm quite excited to be working with a director like Vivek Agnihotri sir." The film already on floors, Sapthami will join the Hyderabad schedule on January 14. "It is a new language, a new industry, and I'm pretty sure there will be a huge learning curve in many aspects. Right from getting into the part, and acting with big stars, there are a lot of new avenues to explore in this multilingual film."

In fact, this urge for exploration is reiterated by Sapthami, who says, "It is not just about working in Bollywood. I get to work with amazing stalwarts of Indian cinema like Anupam Kher and Nana Patekar, who are an institution of sorts. I'm doubly excited about working under Pallavi Joshi's I am Buddha banner. As the title says The Vaccine War is very relatable, and I'm happy to be part of this realistic film."

Sapthami is pragmatic in approaching her stint in Bollywood. "What Kantara has done to me is more than anything I would have ever asked for. Seeing my name on the Oscars list is something I never even dared to dream of. Incidentally, the next film in the list after Kantara is The Kashmir Files. Last year, I was happy to celebrate Sankranti on the sets of Kantara, and this year the festival spirits will be on the sets of The Vaccine War," she says.

Swathi Mutthina Male Haniye will make you fall in love with love : Ramya

CE FEATURES

The shooting of Raj B Shetty's third directorial, Swathi Mutthina Male Haniye, which marks the debut production venture of actor Ramya, has been wrapped up. The romantic drama is now in the post-production stage. SMMH, which has been shot across picturesque locations, is made under AppleBox Studios in collaboration with Lighter Buddha Films. The first looks of Prerana and Aniketh, the characters played by Siri and Raj, have piqued the curiosity among the audience.

Ramya

Ramya strongly believes the film will make one fall in love with love and shares a few details about her debut production. "I am glad I worked as a producer and not as an actor in SMMH simply because I learnt so much about production that I didn't know before. It's a life skill (laughs). I hope everybody would watch and like SMMH because it has so much to show and say without showing and saying much. It's a beautiful poetic film that has so much depth. This will change the way people view true love."

The ensemble also features Balaji Manohar, Surya Vasishta, Rekha Kudligi, Sneha Sharma, JP Thumminad, and Gopalkrishna Deshpande. The film has music by Midhun Mukundan, while Praveen Shriyan shoulders the dual responsibility of cinematographer and editor.

A passionate, heartfelt musical by Mysoreans

A SHARADHAA

DEBUTANT director Sunil Mysooru's Orchestra Mysuru can easily be classified as an out-and-out musical drama that cleverly touches upon human nature and dreams. The overarching theme of leaving windows in our hearts open forever to make dreams come true makes the film an intriguing work.

ORCHESTRA MYSURU

Director: Sunil Mysuru

Cast: Poornachandra Mysuru, Dileep Raj, Mahesh Kumar, and Rajalakshmi

RATING 3/5

The film revolves around Poorna (Poornachandra Mysuru), who works as an attendant in a dental clinic and aspires to sing in an orchestra. Supported by his friends, the attempt to get a breakthrough leads him to meet Naveen Raju (Dileep Raj), the head and lead singer of a band. After much persuasion, he manages to be part of the band. However, realising that the chances of growth are slim, Poorna tries a shortcut route which is noticed by Naveen. After being fired, Poorna decides to build his own orchestra team. After facing all odds, did he succeed in forming the team, and achieving his dream? Tells the mesmerizing climax set at Yuva Dasara and carries a relevant message.

The tale of an underdog's life is placed in the landscape of Mysuru's Gandhinagara, the home of erstwhile orchestra families. It is more of an ode to the dying traditional culture, which comes in full bloom only during popular festivals.

The film also tries to delve into the power of faith, patience, and perseverance, essential in the pursuit of dreams. Sunil Mysuru has conceived a realistic story and the result is worthy of applause.

The screenplay penned by Poornachandra along with Joseph K. Raja and Mahadeva Prasad is delightful. Although predictable, every department including the cast and technicians plays their part well. However, the running time is a bit too stretched, distracting the audience after a certain point and losing the cinematic experience. But the inspirational climax makes you forget the flaws. The film is set in today's time, but the musical scores by Raghu Dixit transport you to the 90s and Orchestra Mysuru truly belongs to him.

With lyrics by Dhananjay, the soundtracks uplift the narrative while a few songs stand out. Joseph Raja K and Rahul Roy's cinematography perfectly captures the vibe of Gandhinagara.

Poorna gets to play a meaty role and it is an honest attempt from the actor. Dileep Raj brings out natural emotions. His body language explains how 'attitude' is key to survival.

Rajalakshmi, who plays Poorna's love interest, is likeable while Mahesh Kumar as his best friend brings in a good sense of humour, but it does get repetitive after a point. KJ Sachu, Rajesh Basavanna, Lingaraju, Mahadeva, Mahesh Kumar, and Ravi Hunsur fit into the characters effortlessly.

Orchestra Mysuru is a heartfelt teamwork by Mysoreans and for Mysoreans. A feel-good piece of work, which has music as its backdrop creates a world that touches upon dreams and hard work.
